WALL STREET STOCK BULLS PUSH ON IN DAY'S TRADE

Buying Movement Temporarily Checked by Profit-Taking, but Speculators for Rise Regain Control.

FURTHER ADVANCE IN RADIO ISSUES

Oil Shares More Prominent Late When Big Purchasing Orders Are Executed for Standards and Others.

By the Associated Press.

NEW YORK, March 15.—A broad buying movement in today's stock market was temporarily checked by profit-taking but speculators for the adva ice quickly regained control of the price movement and bid up a wide assortment of issues to new high records.

Trading showed a further expansion in volume, block of 5000 to 23,000 shares appearing on the tape at frequent intervals throughout the day.

Radio Corporation of America shares provided the fire works in the most active session in the past fortnight, when some 5,000,000 shares changed hands. The old Radio stock which will be stricken from the list next week, sold up 27 points to 558, while the new stock rose nearly 7 points to approaching 105. The higher prices provided that results achieved could not have been far more cheaply gained by proper food," the committee reported.

Gen. Calles himself was expected to reach Durango by midday to establish headquarters for preparation for a march on Torreon, the rebel stronghold, 150 miles away, on which five Federal columns are now converging.

Torreón is 150 miles northeast of Durango.

Rebel Defeat Reported.

A Government communiqué this afternoon disclosed that Federals and rebels met in an engagement between Saltillo and Torreon several days ago in which 50 insurgents were reported killed and 105 taken prisoner. The Federal losses were 20 killed.

The note left by Lindholm in the hotel room said he had been accused falsely of having shot himself in France during the World War in order to be invalided out of the front lines. He said he no longer could endure those memories. He was about 35 years old.

REPRESENTATIVE W. H. NEWTON HOOVER'S THIRD SECRETARY

Minnesota Will Be Liaison Officer Between President and Independent Agencies.

WASHINGTON, March 15.—Representative Walter H. Newton of Minnesota today was appointed third secretary to President Hoover.

The average of 50 industrials closed 4.2 points higher, 20 rails went up 1.2 and 20 utilities .2 point lower.

Wall Street obviously was pleased that no change had been made in the rediscoun rate that brokers' loans had decreased and that the reserve position of the New York bank, as well as for the system as a whole, had improved during the past week. There was still considerable uneasiness, however, over the credit situation.

Copper Price Advanced.

Call money renewed at 7 per cent. Relative ease of call money this week has been due, in part, to the heavy accumulation of funds here in preparation for the $300,000,000 turnover of funds to day. Reports of unusually heavy tax payments today were accepted as indications of the country's prosperity. Time money was appreciably scarcer. Little was reported available under 8 per cent, even for the 90-day maturity.

One of the most important trade developments of the day was the further increase in copper metal prices. Another flock of 1928 market reports made their appearance, and most of them made favorable comparison with the year before.

Steel shares were heavily bought. Youngstown Sheet and Tube soared to a new high and U. S. Steel company moved up nearly 3 points to 94%, closing at 187 1/2.

Kennebunk assumed the leadership of the copper shares by advancing nearly 4 points to a new high at 101 1/2. Merchandise, mail order and chain store shares were heavily bought. Safeway Stores rose 9 points and Montgomery Ward 4 1/2. International Telephone fell less than 4 points on the traditional "saying on the good news" following the announcement of a 1-for-1 stock split-up and closed 2 points not lower.

Speculators for the advance staged the bullish demonstration following the retention of the 5 per cent rediscoun rate by the New York Federal Reserve Bank and the drop of $20,000,000 in shorter loans. Because of the fact that the new Radio stock had to gain for this week, many brokers looked for a substantial increase in loans.

Early trading was in unusually heavy volume. Several blocks of 4000 to 5000 shares changed hands at advancing prices. "Bear" traders, who sold stocks short earlier in the week in the belief that a rise in the rediscoun rate was imminent, were driven to cover, and pools resumed operations on a large scale.

This gain alone (120 columns) is more than the entire volume of advertising carried today by the Globe-Democrat.

COLLEGE FORBIDS WOMAN STUDENTS TO TALK TO MEN

Detroit U. Draws Line at Campus Chats — Girls' "Blanchisms" Blamed.

DETROIT, Mich., March 15.—

The campus of the University of Detroit was stirred today by an announcement by the president, the Rev. Father John P. McNichols, that the 50 coeds enrolled in the university would be expelled if they were detected conversing with any of the 2000 male students on the university grounds.

The bar on conversation was defended vigorously by John S. Malley, associate editor of the Varsity News, student paper. Malley's statement said:

"The president's dictum is the greatest thing to come to University of Detroit in years. The coeds waylay the male students in their dormitories. They distract the studies and scholarly atmosphere of the college with their blanchisms."

A coed reply follows: "One reason Malley hates girls is because he can't dance. He's asked me to teach him how. He can't dance and the girls can't be annoyed with him."

By the Associated Press.

CHICAGO, March 15.—Hugo Ferdinand Lindholm of Davenport, Ia., identified by papers found on his body, leaped to death today from the seventh floor of the Pershing Hotel on the South Side.

Lindholm left a note stating he wanted to die to vindicate his sonor as a soldier and atone for the recent suicide of his father which he believed had caused him to do so.

The note left by Lindholm in the hotel room said he had been accused falsely of having shot himself in France during the World War in order to be invalided out of the front lines. He said he no longer could endure those memories. He was about 35 years old.

The position Newton is to occupy is a new one and is regarded by the chief executive as one of the highest importance.

The three semi-judicial agencies of the Government—the Interstate Commerce Commission, the Federal Trade Commission and the Tariff Commission—will be excepted from the general jurisdiction of the liaison officer, but such negotiations as they find it necessary to have with the President undoubtedly will be carried on through Newton.

BRITISH DOCTORS SKEPTICAL ABOUT THERAPEUTIC RAYS

No Reason to Think Them More Healing Than Mustard Plaster, Report Says.

LONDON, March 15.—An official report of a committee of the British Medical Research Council questioning possible benefits in artificial light treatment gave rise yesterday to considerable discussion in English medical circles.

The council's criticism of radio therapy attracted attention particularly because of recent application of the treatment to the King. However, this use was not alluded to in the report.

The investigators said there was no reason to believe that artificial light could do more than a mustard plaster, which is "infinitely cheaper." They declared their confidence in the efficacy of the ray treatment in certain special cases but said they wished to combat what they in effect intimated was a popular craze for the artificial light treatments upon which great sums of private and public money were being spent.

After citing a series of experiments with school children, the report said artificial sunlight "gave no gain in weight or height and none observed in mentality or 'spirits'" while the incidence of minor ailments was actually rather higher.

"No objective evidence was provided that results achieved could not have been far more cheaply gained by proper food," the committee reported.

U. S. PREPARES POLICY TOWARD MEXICAN REBELS

Announcement of Details
Submitted by the State
ident Hoover.

MAY DETAIN THOSE CROSSING BORDER

Large Amounts of Tear Gas, Arms and Amunition Ordered in This Country by Embassy.

By the Associated Press.
WASHINGTON, March 15.—The State Department has submitted to President Hoover a suggested policy to be pursued with respect to Mexican rebels who cross the border into this country. Announcement of the details of the policy was left to the White House by the department.

There appeared to be little doubt that the administration had decided to detain rebels who cross into this American soil, inasmuch as the indications have been all along that this Government desired to carry out the spirit of the Pan-American treaty touching on that situation.

The attention of Secretary Kellogg was drawn today to a statement by the National Catholic Welfare Conference, which the questioner said denounced the Mexican revolutionaries. The Secretary said he had not had time to examine the statement, but it was his opinion that Americans generally were supporting the administration's stand on the Mexican revolution.

War Materials From U. S.
Large amounts of war materials, including tear gas, arms and ammunition, have been ordered from American manufacturers by the Mexican Government. It became known today.

The orders have been placed through the Mexican Embassy here, which has requested the State Department to issue permits to enable shipment of the material across the border. Some additional war munitions are to be procured by the American Government from its surplus stocks, but all of the tear gas is to be obtained from private concerns.

Ambassador Tellez said his Government desired to use tear gas rather than poison in order that there be as little loss of life as possible. He said that the Mexican Government has sought to obtain any deadly gas.

The method by which the Federal forces expect to combat the rebels with gas was not known by Tellez, but he presumed that it would be dropped from airplanes on fortified positions.

More U. S. Troops to Border.
Meanwhile, there has been no reason for alarm in official circles for the safety of American lives and property in this country. The Mexican Government is easing up on its embargo and is permitting supplies urgently needed by United States business interests to come through.

The War Department, however, has ordered the second squadron of the Tenth Cavalry and a company of infantry from Fort Huachuca, Ariz., to the border at Naco, Ariz. This was explained by Secretary Good as a precautionary step to relieve the prevailing apprehension among Arizona citizens, and not because any anxiety was felt as to the possibility of United States citizens being attacked.

The troops were requested by Senator Ashurst of Arizona, who explained to Good he desired to take every precaution for the safety of the water supply of Bisbee, a city eight miles from the border.

5 WINES AT VATICAN FEAST

All-Italian List for Diplomatic Banquet Sunday.

By the Associated Press.

VATICAN CITY, March 15.—An all-Italian wine list is the feature of the luncheon menu to be offered diplomats accredited to the Holy See by the Pope on Sunday. His Holiness will not be present, although the luncheon is to be held in the Vatican itself, contrary to tradition of recent years.

Cardinal Gaspari will preside over the horseshoe-shaped table with Ambassador Asceredo of Brazil, dean of the diplomatic corps, at his right. Seventy guests, ambassadors, ministers, secretaries and prelates of the Papal household, have been invited. The menu includes consommé in cups, filet of sole with rice, roasted hen with assorted salad, ice cream, cake, fruit and wine. All the wines are Italian. Marsala is to be drunk as an appetizer, instead of cocktails. White canapé wine is to be served with the fish, and Grignolino, a heady red Piedmontese wine, with the game. Barbera, another red wine, and an Italian champagne known as "Spumante" complete the list.

Brothers Whose Ideas Are Parallel

—By the Associated Press.

LEFT to right, Joseph, Samuel, and David Agatstein, brothers who, since the youngest, Joseph, was a boy have had much in common. Their mutual interests include buying automobiles of the same make, building apartment houses side by side and golfing and playing bridge together.

Three Brothers Agree In Everything They Buy

Autos and Apartments of the Agatsteins Are Identical—And Each Has Two Children, a Boy and a Girl.

The lives of three brothers—Samuel, David and Joseph Agatstein—have for 15 years been so closely allied, both in business and recreation, as to have become almost identical.

They were all born in St. Louis and, at different times, attended Central High School. While the youngest, Joseph, was still in school, his older brothers had already gone into business, but when he was graduated the three formed a partnership to operate a furniture store at 909 N. Franklin avenue. From the modest beginning, spurred by their common efforts, the business has increased, their joint bank account has grown and now all pay income taxes which vary little from each other's from year to year.

It was 15 years ago that they started the store. About four years later the oldest, Samuel, married. He was soon followed by David and, later, by Joseph. Today each has two children, a boy and a girl, and the girl, in each case, is the same age. The wife of the youngest, Joseph, has Joyce 4 and Morton, 3 months.

In their youth, the brothers played tennis with one another. Later they took up golf, still playing together. Two of them belong to the same golf club. On Sunday afternoons, when all three can take a vacation, they go to the baseball games together. In the evenings, they play auction bridge in one another's homes.

And as for music—in each home there is a grand piano; needless to say, the pianos are all of the same make.

A couple of years later a similar conversation occurred and this time the touring cars were turned in for sedans of the same make.

Poses. Gen. Escobar said he declared that foreign interests as well as those of Mexican nationals were perfectly safeguarded by the forces under his command.

Gen. Escobar in a proclamation declared null and void all national decree for political crimes in the state of Nayarit, March 12, 1929. He extended an invitation to all citizens of Mexico living in other countries, who wish to join the rebellion to present themselves before the nearest civil or military authorities.

The sudden movement out of Nogales of most of the rebel soldiers about 500 men, commanded by Gen. Fausto Topete, yesterday lent weight to a statement by Gen. Francisco Borquez that an action soon would be made on Naco, eight miles south of Bisbee, Ariz.

It was learned that Gen. Manzo, second in command of the revolutionary army, had left Nogales. Borquez said he had gone south to take charge of rebel troops in Sinaloa who are preparing to storm the coast city of Mazatlan.

The whereabouts of Gen. Manzo came in for attention again today when Gen. Abelardo Rodriguez, Governor of the northern district of Lower California and a popular politician, was arrested and registered at a hotel here and inquired for the rebel chieftain as he was expecting to meet him.

Manzo and Rodriguez held a secret meeting here Wednesday, giving rise to rumors that they may have discussed a cessation of hostilities.

Rebel leaders today announced receipt of a telegram from Gen. Ramon F. Iturbide, commanding the 10th division against Mazatlan, west coast seaport, saying that troops of the division of the late Gen. Carrasco stationed south of Mazatlan had joined the revolt and were co-operating with him.

Board of Estimates' Public

Advocates of a larger appropriation for the Board of Children's Guardians, for a roadway on the south side of Forest Park, for a statue in honor of Spanish-American war veterans and for more band concerts in city parks, addressed the Board of Estimate and Apportionment in favor of their various projects at a public meeting on the 1929 city budget held in the Mayor's office today.

Samuel C. McCluney, investment broker and treasurer of the Republican State Committee, who has been mentioned for the presidency of the new St. Louis Board of Police Commissioners, as chairman of the first group of citizens, explained that the Board of Children's Guardians was asking for an appropriation of $242,748, of which it planned to use $200,000 in placing ornamentals in foster homes, and in aiding widows who were in need of financial assistance.

350 Children in School House.
A courier who made his way to the Board from Elba reported 350 children, in a school building since classes opened yesterday morning, in which second story windows for aid. The children were thought to be safe. The courier also reported 29 families quartered on upper floors of the Coffee County Courthouse at Elba.

Conditions had improved last night at Mason City, Ia., where more than 100 basements were flooded and where several families had been forced to move. Some half acres of land were flooded near Burlington when a levee on the Skunk River broke. Several cottages were swept off their foundations and rural schools were suspended.

NATURAL GAS FIRM GETS ST. LOUIS PERMIT

Local Arrangements Made for Distributing Fuel Piped From Monroe, La.

A permit authorizing the Mississippi River Fuel Corporation to supply natural gas from Monroe, La. to St. Louis industries, was issued today by the Board of Public Service.

H. C. Cooper of Pittsburgh, representing the company, said work would be begun within a month on the 430-mile pipe line, the enterprise representing a $30,000,000 investment. The company has its offices at 506 North Fourth street. It plans to sell gas to industrial consumers only, chiefly foundries and brick kilns. Prices have not been announced, but will be on a basis of competition with fuels at present used by those industries.

The permit authorizes laying of a 12-inch line along the right-of-way of the Missouri Pacific and Frisco Railroads, crossing Sulphur, Knox, Sublette and Macklin avenues and Kingshighway, and a 10-inch line crossing McRee avenue, DeTonty street, Shaw avenue, Kingshighway, Wilson, Boardman, Southwest and Columbia avenues, Arsenal street, Kemper Park, Conestreet, Kingshighway, Tyler avenue and Morganford road. The 12-inch steel pipe line from Monroe will be 22 inches in diameter, and compressor, pump stations, to speed up the flow, will be built 5 miles apart. Little Rock, Pine Bluff and some other places on the way will be supplied with gas.

First Lord of Admiralty Says Britain Is Replacing Old Vessels—Deplores
"Scare Mongering."

DELIVERS FINAL SPEECH IN COMMONS

Bridgeman Asserts Fleet Gets Only 6.9 Per Cent of Budget Against 24 Per Cent Before War.

Copyright, 1929, by the Press and Pulitzer Publishing Co., the New York World Publishing Co., Inc. Printed in U.S.A.

LONDON, March 15.—W. C. Bridgeman, First Lord of the Admiralty, in his final speech in the House of Commons on the naval estimates yesterday, after announcing his country's position, asserted emphatically that Great Britain had done more in act and word for naval limitation than any other nation in the world.

Bridgeman's defense against the Labor attack on the naval estimates of £56,000,000 ($261,000,000) for the fiscal year as being $19,360,000 higher than in 1914 during the building race against Germany was based on the contention that war pensions and the decrease in the value of money had caused a real amount of the estimate lower than before the war. He said 24 per cent of the national budget went for the fleet before the war and only 6.9 per cent this year.

The First Lord denied charges that Great Britain is building against the United States and declared the Admiralty was merely replacing obsolete ships. Before the war, he said, England had 114 cruisers; now it has only 52.

"If we went on replacing at the rate of three a year," he added, "as at present, in 1940 we should have only 50 cruisers under 20 years of age."

Deplores Suspicion of U. S.
Quoting from President Hoover's inaugural speech, Bridgeman deplored "scare mongering, fear and suspicion" about America, saying "generous confidence is better than elaborate mathematical tables to equate the fleets of nations whose needs are utterly different." In the same vein he added that attempting to reach mathematical parity were "too elaborate and risky."

Speaking of Great Britain and America, he said:

"The two powers are both lovers of peace by interest and tradition. Both have renounced war as an instrument of national policy. Therefore, it is unreasonable to suppose that either will ever be engaged in a war of aggression. Still less is it reasonable to imagine that there is any danger of their fighting each other."

But the First Lord pointed out that scaling down armaments leads to peace was fallacious because, if reduction in the same proportion was made all around, relative strengths would be unaltered.

"Your chances of success in war remain proportionately the same," he reasoned. "Substantial fleets constitute no danger of war and no guarantee of peace. Reduction is, however, good for motives of economy and humanity."

Cites Geneva Proposal.
Bridgeman argued that the British proposal before the Geneva conference to agree on smaller cruisers, then to extend the reduction in size to other classes of ships, "was obviously right in principle because it reversed the policy that led to naval races in the past." However, added the First Lord, inability to agree with the United States over the eight-inch gun wrecked the British proposal.

The Labor benches were resolute and called out "Old war junk!" when Bridgeman boasted that Great Britain had scrapped more ships than the rest of the world combined.

"Even before the Washington conference was called," he stated, "we scrapped 1,650,000 tons and have scrapped 2,600,000 tons since 1918."

The British plan for reduction of naval armaments rejected by the United States at Geneva would have saved $48,000,000 within the first few years, the First Lord of the Admiralty asserted. He ended on a note ridiculing the world, saying:

"We believe that peace is assured and that suspicions are unworthy and unnecessary."

DOG RUNS WILD DOWNTOWN; SEVERAL PERSONS ARE BITTEN

Police are attempting to find additional victims of a large spotted white female dog which bit several persons as it ran from Tenth boulevard and Walnut street today to Fourteenth and Market streets, where it was killed.

Two men reported to the police that they had been bitten, and were taken to city hospital for treatment. They were Joseph Bruns, 1407 Gratiot street, and William Woelfer, 3419 Lemp avenue.

Sgt. Patrolman Frank Reeves, who commanded an automobile and followed the dog for several blocks until he was able to shoot it, reported that he saw it bite several other persons. The city bacteriologist will make an examination to determine whether the animal had rabies.

MELLON EXPLAINS
WHY HE PERMITS
REFUND PUBLICITY

Suggested Order to Hoover
"to Dispel Any Misunderstanding in Mind of the People."

By the Associated Press
WASHINGTON, March 13.—Secretary of the Treasury Mellon last night issued a statement explaining the reason for the executive order, issued yesterday, for publicity of refunds, credits or abatements exceeding $20,000.

He said the Treasury had entered serious objections to all "publicity" proposals and that the soundness of this position was reiterated.

"However, in an effort to dispel any misunderstanding that might have arisen in the minds of the public because of the recent discussion of the matter," the Secretary said, "the Treasury has undertaken to go much further than the amendment requires."

"It is believed that the publication of a decision in the manner outlined will, in a very short period of time, show conclusively that the Treasury has nothing to hide in the matter of tax refunds; that there is nothing mysterious about tax refunds; that practically all refunds, credits and abatements which are allowed are attributable directly to such causes as decisions of the courts or of the Board of Tax Appeals, overturning the Treasury position on holding a provision of the statute unconstitutional, to retroactive legislation, to uncertainties of legislation, such as the statute or mathematical error, to factors which could not have been determined at the time the tax was paid, or to the public spirited attitude of taxpayers in deciding doubtful questions against themselves at the time the tax is paid, relying upon a proper administrative policy in reaching a final determination of the amount properly due; and that the refunding of overpayments of taxes is merely a necessary part of the administration of our tax laws—in fact, an essential corollary of any tax system founded upon the 'payment first' principle so frequently discussed."

"It must not be forgotten that our Federal tax collection system is founded upon the doctrine that taxpayers may be compelled to pay the amount Government officials determine to be due, with no opportunity until after payment for a review of that determination.

"It is vital, and the interests of taxpayers and the public generally properly demand as a necessary protection, that when the review is afforded, whether it be administrative or judicial, the decision be carried out within a reasonable day."

Senator Coopers (Rep.), Michigan, who headed the Special Senate Tax Investigating Committee which sharply criticized methods of arriving at tax refunds, said the executive order of the President was "a vast improvement over existing conditions" and fully complied with the amendment to the first deficiency appropriation bill.

"The real test of its efficacy, however, will be the honest intent and disposition on the part of those charged with the responsibility of carrying out the order," he said.

"The Secretary of the Treasury, when the Senate amendment to the first deficiency appropriation bill was passed by the Senate, protested vigorously to the chairman of the Appropriations Committee, Senator Warren, against the Senate amendment. He said it was his opinion that the old system completely and adequately protected the Government interests, but it is obvious that the carrying out of the present executive order in good faith will necessitate a reversal of Mr. Mellon's attitude."

MISSOURI U. BOARD CALLED TO ACT ON SEX SURVEY ROW

Dr. Brooks Asks Curators to Meet Tuesday to Hear Four Students and Four Professors.

By the Associated Press.

COLUMBIA, Mo., March 15.—A special meeting of the executive board of curators of the University of Missouri to investigate circulation of a sex questionnaire by the "Bureau of Personnel Research" among men and women students, was called today by President Stratton D. Brooks. The meeting will be held here Tuesday. The executive board comprises Mercer Arnold of Joplin, F. M. McDavid, Springfield, and H. J. Blanton, Paris. Dr. Brooks acts as an ex-officio member.

Dr. Brooks intimated that four students in "The Family" course in the Sociology Department and four professors and perhaps another would be called to account before the board.

All questionnaires answered by students, about 200, were surrendered today by O. H. Mowrer, student assistant instructor in the psychology department. He had been urged to turn over the 200 original replies to the university secretary for safekeeping in the vaults. Only a few have come in since Dr. Brooks ordered confiscation of such communications in the university's private mail system.

Professor Accepts Part Blame.

Mowrer, who intended to use the tabulated results of the questionnaires to further his candidacy for graduation with distinction in psychology, had been urged to surrender his replies to Dr. Harmon O. Degraff, assistant professor of sociology. Prof. Degraff said he was indirectly responsible for the "research" since it grew out of the subject chosen by four members of a "committee" in "The Family" course.

Dr. Brooks said the investigation was being carried on so that he might lay as much evidence as possible before the board.

"It will enter the public mind," he said, "that there have been no tabulations of the information in the questionnaires."

Meanwhile, North T. Gentry, Columbia attorney and former Missouri Attorney-General and Supreme Court Judge, continued to circulate among business and professional men and alumni a petition demanding "investigation and the immediate discharge" of any one connected with the university found to be responsible for circulation of "such an indecent and vulgar communication."

If it is presented the petition will be studied by the executive board in Dr. Brooks' office here Tuesday afternoon. Asked today if the investigation was "near completion, Dr. Brooks replied: "It's just beginning."

Y. M. C. A. Lecture Canceled.

The President ordered cancellation of a lecture billed as "Youth and Sex Life—for men only" in the university auditorium, to have been delivered last night by Harry Bone of New York, associate secretary of the Sex Education Division of the National Council of the Y. M. C. A., under joint auspices of the University Y. M. C. A. and the Student Religious Council.

Questionnaire on Divorce.

Another questionnaire appeared today with a prefaced explanation that information requested therein would be used as a "term paper" by a committee of four students enrolled in Dr. H. O. DeGraff's class.

"The committee is anxious to learn," the leading paragraph said, "the attitude of students in the university on the effect of divorce in the families, or the death of either parent from actual experience."

Those filling out the questionnaire were directed to address return envelopes to Miss Lucille Dorff, special student from Dallas, Tex.

The 15 subdivided questions deal largely with the effect of divorce on the individual, such as "Has divorce (of parents) any specific effect on your life? Has it made you cynical towards marriage? Toward one of the sexes? Is there more than one set of children in the family? Give as comprehensively as you will the effects of divorce or the loss of one parent not included in the above."

Considers Seeking Legislative Inquiry at University.

By the Associated Press.
JEFFERSON CITY, March 15.—A resolution for a legislative investigation of conditions at the State University at Columbia following distribution of a questionnaire among students relative to sex problems may be introduced in the General Assembly, it was learned yesterday.

Representative Robert F. Miller of St. Louis said he was considering the introduction of such a resolution. He said it would provide for the appointment of three Representatives and a Speaker of the House with power to conduct a thorough inquiry into conditions at the university. The committee would ascertain, he added, whether the circulation of any questionnaire on sex relations came under rules and regulations of the university and whether it was of any benefit to the State educational system or the citizens of the State.

INJUNCTION TO ENFORCE BROADCASTING CONTRACT

Alleged Employment of Nonunion Musicians by Night Club Basis of Action.

A temporary restraining order was issued yesterday by Circuit Judge Sale to prevent the Greater St. Louis Broadcasting Corporation (Station KWV) from terminating a contract to broadcast the programs of Gingham Inn, a night club, on Manchester road, near Denny road, St. Louis County. Leslie J. Moyer, proprietor of the inn, alleged in a suit for injunction that he made the contract with Thomas P. Convey, president of the broadcasting company, for a period of 10 weeks, the program to be broadcast on Wednesday night each week for one hour, beginning at midnight. He alleged that Convey had served notice he did not intend to carry out the agreement, despite the fact that Meyer incurred heavy expense in arranging programs for the service. Plaintiff's attorney, Louis E. Miller, said Convey assigned as a reason for refusing to continue the service that the club employed a non-union musician, which the attorney denied. Judge Sale set the case for hearing next Monday.

IMPEACHED GOVERNOR ENDS TESTIMONY IN OWN DEFENSE

Johnston of Oklahoma, Before Senate Court, Attacks Charges on Which He Is Being Tried.

OKLAHOMA CITY, Ok., March 15.—After a week of personal defense by his administration and his competency to resume his Governor's office, from which he has been suspended, Henry S. Johnston gave up the witness chair in the Senate Court of Impeachment to other defense witnesses yesterday. The suspended Governor's testimony, which had attacked evidence in the 10 impeachment charges on which he is being tried, ended in replies to a variety of questions propounded by his prosecutors from the House of Representatives and by members of the Senate court itself. He was excused with the understanding that he could be recalled.

FAVORS IMMIGRATION QUOTA ON MEXICANS

U. S. District Director, in Address, Reviews History of Influx of Foreigners.

Tracing the various trends of immigration since the Revolutionary War, addressing the Senate Select Committee on Immigration, James T. H. Nash, District Immigration Director, speaking before the Republican Woman's Club at the Town Club, yesterday afternoon, declared that, in his opinion, a quota should be placed on immigration of Mexicans.

"The State Department, however, is loath to affront Mexico," he asserted. "There has never been a quota on either Canadians or Mexicans. We have always been on friendly terms with Canada, and would not want to bar Canadians by a quota restriction. But some restriction should be placed on Mexican immigration."

Waves of Immigration.
He divided the history of immigration into five "waves" as follows: First, mostly immigrants from Great Britain, with a few from Germany; second, British, German and Scandinavian; third, 1820-1892, British, German and increasing numbers of Scandinavians; fourth, 1903-1914, fewer from Northern Europe, a tremendous influx from Southern and Southeastern Europe; fifth, immigration, halted by the war, further impeded by the quota act.

After touching on the Chinese Exclusion Act of 1892, the speaker stated that experiences during the war, when production records were broken, "although we were minus 4,000,000 workers," showed that "foreign labor was no longer necessary to American industry."

"In 1921, Congress learned that 5,000,000 persons were out of employment," he continued. "An act restricting total immigration to 358,000 a year was passed. In 1924, a new law was passed, reducing this figure to about 164,667 annually. We have a right to guard our high standards and ideals against an unregulated flow of immigration into this country."

All Is Deported Four Times.
Describing incidents that have occurred in the St. Louis district, of which he is in charge, Nash told how he had deported the same alien four times.

"Each time," he said, "this man would leave the boat at a Mexican port, get on another bound for a gulf city, swim to shore after nightfall and come back to my district. I would rearrest him, send him back, and hope!

"One man, after his second deportation, boasted that he got back to St. Louis before the inspector who took him to the Mexico-bound ship."

DENIES KANSAS CITY SOUTHERN AND C. & A. MERGER RUMOR

Loree Declines Inspection of Latter Road Was One of Friendly Interest

KANSAS CITY, Mo., March 15.—L. F. Loree, chairman of the board of directors of the Kansas City Southern Railway, yesterday denied reports that a merger was contemplated with the Chicago & Alton Railway. He said an inspection trip just completed over the lines of the latter road was one of "friendly interest."

W. C. Bierd, one of the receivers of the Chicago & Alton, also on the special train, likewise denied the trip was to lay foundations for a merger.

Loree expressed hope, however, that his proposal for a merger of the Kansas City Southern, the Cotton Belt and the Missouri, Kansas & Texas might eventually be consummated through recognition by the Interstate Commerce Commission.

Bierd said the Chicago & Alton "was not contemplating an immediate reorganization of properties. It is a very complex matter which must be worked out with infinite pains and long consideration."

MAJORITY OF CARMEN TO WEAR
GRAY UNIFORMS ON EASTER

Those Whose Blue Suits Are Servicable, However, May Use Them

Street car motormen and conductors who own serviceable blue uniforms will be permitted to wear them out, it was announced by the Public Service Company today.

In a recent bulletin by the company all uniformed employees were directed to don new gray outfits, resembling mail carriers' uniforms, on Easter Sunday. The Street Car Men's Union protested and voted not to buy the new uniforms. The State Public Service Commission has passed on the demands of the employees for a wage increase. At a conference of company and union representatives yesterday it was agreed that those employees whose blue uniforms pass inspection next week may wear them until they are no longer serviceable. About 80 per cent of the car crews will appear in the new gray outfits Easter, it was said.

SEEKS POWER SYSTEM PERMIT

By the Associated Press.
JEFFERSON CITY, March 15.—O. T. Brotherton of Kansas City has filed application with the State Public Service Commission for permission to construct an electric power distribution system in central Missouri.

The power plant, costing $20,000, would be located at Meta in Cole County. It would supply power to Meta, St. Thomas, Henley, Freeburg, St. Elizabeth, Mary's Home, Eugene, Tuscarumba and Vienna. The 35 miles of transmission line would cost $44,000 and the distribution system in the towns $24,400.

SIX FAMILIES ROUTED BY FIRE IN APARTMENT AT 5700 ETZEL

Occupants of a six-family apartment house at 5700 Etzel avenue were routed at 1 a. m. today by a fire which probably may have been caused by the person responsible for previous West End apartment building fires.

The fire caused considerable smoke, but little damage—about $25—being confined to the wooden railing of the stairway at the second floor. Investigators think the railing might have been set on fire with a torch.

The building is owned by Charles Engel, one of the occupants.

FRANCIS CLARKE REYBURN
TO BE BURIED IN ST. LOUIS
Barnickel Chemical Co. California Representative Died in Los Angeles Wednesday.

The funeral of Francis Clarke Reyburn, son of the late Judge Valle Reyburn of the St. Louis Court of Appeals, who died in Los Angeles, Cal., Wednesday, will be held in St. Louis probably Tuesday, friends of the family said today.

Mr. Reyburn's brother, Thomas an attorney living at 6250 Wydown boulevard, has been called to Los Angeles, and will return with his body. Mr. Reyburn died of peritonitis, following an appendicitis operation. He was about 32 years old and was California representative of the William S. Barnickel Chemical Co.

Surviving are his widow, whom he married less than a year ago; his mother, Mrs. Charles Fletcher Sparks, also of the Wydown boulevard address; three brothers and a sister.

The House of Commons heard Col. Josiah Wedgwood, Labor member, urge Sir Philip Cunliffe-Lister, president of the Board of Trade, to take steps to prevent such discrimination. Brokers were reported to be petitioning the London Stock Exchange to admit the new shares to listing. The Burma Corporation, Ltd., called an extraordinary meeting of shareholders to vote on a proposal to insure British control to that company.

"This super-patriot of German origin," was the taunt flung at Sir Hugo Hirst, chairman of General Electric Co., Ltd., by Wedgwood, as amid cheers, he pressed Cunliffe-Lister to take steps to prevent discrimination here which is injurious to this country's reputation as a peaceful and industrial nation of the world and liable to produce bad feeling between us and America such as recently was perpetrated in this country by a super-patriot of German origin."

Cunliffe-Lister replied that this matter was "quite unsuitable for legislation," but pressed further, said, "It is desirable that as much capital as possible should come into this country."

Hirst refused to comment on Wedgwood's jibe. He was born in Munich in 1855 and emigrated to this country before the World War. The feeling in financial circles against General Electric's action is still strong, but it is generally declared nothing can be done about it as the English concern acted within its rights.

Meanwhile the precedent set by Hirst is being considered by other corporations which have a large list of foreign shareholders. The Burma Corporation, Ltd., called an extraordinary meeting of stockholders for April 1 to vote a proposal to alter the articles of association to make sure that the company remain in British control and that the chairman, president and a majority of the directors be British. Voting rights would be restricted to British shareholders under the plan.

Col. Wedgwood Urges
Board of Trade to Prevent

LONDON, March 15.—These new developments in the situation arising from the action of the General Electric Co., Ltd., in prohibiting the sale of any of its forthcoming issue of stock to American holders took place yesterday as the old shares broke sharply.

The House of Commons heard Col. Josiah Wedgwood, Labor member, urge Sir Philip Cunliffe-Lister, president of the Board of Trade, to take steps to prevent such discrimination. Brokers were reported to be petitioning the London Stock Exchange to admit the new shares to listing.

The Burma Corporation, Ltd., called an extraordinary meeting of shareholders to vote on a proposal to insure British control to that company.

KIEL TO PRESIDE AT OPENING OF MILLER CAMPAIGN

Mayor to Address G. O. P.
Rally Tuesday Night at North Side Turner Hall
for Six Wards.

Henry W. Kiel, former Mayor, will preside at a mass meeting opening the Republican campaign at North St. Louis Turner Hall next Tuesday night, to be addressed by Mayor Miller, Kiel's successful opponent for the mayoralty nomination.

In his acrimonious primary campaign against Miller, Kiel announced that, if defeated, he would support the Mayor. Miller refrained from making a similar statement as to Kiel. They were on friendly terms when the contest began, but Miller became incensed over Kiel's attacks on alleged extravagance and mismanagement in the Miller administration and by the time of the primary he avoided Kiel as much as possible.

Kiel always has been a thoroughgoing party man and undoubtedly his agreement to preside at the mass meeting was made in the interest of party harmony.

The North St. Louis Turner Hall gathering will be for Republicans from the First, Second, Third, Eighteenth, Twenty-first and Twenty-second Wards. There will be several besides Miller. Both Miller and Kiel had large meetings in the same hall before the primary.

Several other mass meetings will be held by the Republicans in the present campaign and the former practice of many small neighborhood gatherings will be avoided.

Mrs. Nardin to Direct Speakers.

Mrs. William T. Nardin, Republican committeewoman from the Twenty-eighth Ward, who was chairman of the women's division of Miller's primary campaign, has been placed in charge of the Republican speakers. Mrs. Nardin will have a large part in conducting the race. General management of the campaign is in the hands of Park Commissioner Pape, chairman of the Republican City Committee, aided by the other officers. Mrs. Kate Kuhnert, vice chairman; Mrs. Celeste Blesse, secretary, and Charles R. Gillespie, treasurer, the latter being charged especially with raising funds. All of the officers were supporters of Miller for the nomination.

The Republican Committee met early this afternoon for a discussion of campaign plans.

Pape and Gillespie have sent out letters to a large mailing list, soliciting contributions for an aggressive campaign to "maintain the Republican policies of municipal government that have been responsible for the growth of our city." The letters declare that the spirited primary contest left the party without a division, and add: "To carry on a progressive campaign, funds are necessary for overhead expenses, campaign literature, postage, etc. All money contributed toward this campaign is judiciously spent and accurately accounted for. We would appreciate your check at the earliest possible moment, since the time in which to make this campaign is very short indeed."

Mayor Miller, who went to Hot Springs, Ark., last Saturday for a rest after the primary, returned today. He arrived at his office at 10:15 o'clock, hurried to the Board of Public Service chamber, met with the city commissioners, and was off for a somewhat belated appearance at a Board of Estimate and Appropriation meeting as soon as the flashlight was fired.

Between times, the Mayor told reporters he had had no opportunity to consider campaign plans or the party platform, but that he would discuss these with the Republican committee. The platform is expected to be essentially that on which Miller made his primary race.

Warning for 26th Ward. G. O. P. in the 26th Ward. Republican predict workers were told at Hotel Roosevelt last night that a strenuous effort would be necessary to prevent Lawrence McDonald, Democratic candidate for Mayor, from getting a large majority in the ward. James Duross, secretary of the ward organization, urged the workers to offset this prospect by getting out a large Republican vote in the section south of Page boulevard.

The first candidate to file a campaign paper account with the Recorder spent only $1, in addition to the compulsory filing fee of $25. He is Joseph R. Heckel, defeated for the Republican nomination for Alderman from the Thirteenth Ward.

25 TO 40 COUNTY SALOONS
CLOSED WITHIN LAST WEEK

Sheriff Lill Says 75 to 100 Other Places Suspended. Business
Since Jan. 1.

Sheriff Lill estimated today that between 25 and 40 saloons, home brew joints and other resorts where intoxicating liquor was sold had closed in St. Louis County during the last week. The Jones law, authorizing a five-year prison term for first dry law violations, became effective March 1.

In addition, Lill said, between 75 and 100 other places had closed during January, February and early March as a result of the concerted activity of his own staff. He declared it would be impossible to estimate the number of places remaining in business.

CHARGED WITH TRANSPORTING DYNAMITE ON COMMON CARRIER

Two Men Would Have Evaded U. S. Act by Coming From Chicago in Own Car Instead of Bus. Federal warrants charging interstate transportation of explosives on a common carrier were issued today against John Rogers and Joe Novak, who were arrested at the Laclede Hotel with five sticks of dynamite in their baggage. According to their own statements, the men carried the dynamite here from Chicago on a motorbus. It was given to them in a Chicago poolroom, they said, and they were carrying it "just for fun." If they had come to St. Louis in their own automobile they would not have been subject to Federal prosecution. The offense charged is punishable by a $2000 fine or 18 months' imprisonment, or both.

GERMAN SHAMROCKS in Chicago. By the Associated Press. CHICAGO, March 15.—Chicago's shamrocks this year come from Dicero, Ill., and they are grown from seed obtained in Germany. The owner of the largest greenhouse devoted to growing shamrocks for Chicago's St. Patrick day is Joseph Kohout, who does not claim to be Irish. A few Irish-American societies have obtained genuine old sod shamrock.

COMPLAINT IN $500,000 SUIT TACKED ON DOOR

Wife of Royal Typewriter Co.
Head Charges Ex-Stenographer Alienated His Affections.

By Leased Wire From the New York Bureau of the Post-Dispatch.

NEW YORK, March 15.—On the door of an apartment in West Fifty-fifth street, wherein lives Miss Helen C. Meade, a process server tried to tack a summons which charged Miss Meade had "wilfully, wickedly and maliciously stolen the affections" of George E. Smith, president of the Royal Typewriter Co. The complaint also charges Miss Meade "maliciously debauched" Smith.

It was a copy of the complaint filed a month ago in Supreme Court, Manhattan, by which Mrs. Mary Smith, wife of the Royal company head, for 24 years, is seeking to obtain $500,000 for alienation of affections from the woman who, six years ago, was her husband's stenographer. To the complaint was attached a court summons.

This action is the third in the marital fight of the Smiths. Jan. 2, of this year, Smith filed suit for divorce in Nassau County, where he lives, alleging improper conduct by his wife and an unnamed man.

On Jan. 4, Smith filed a counter suit seeking $5000 monthly alimony, $15,000 counsel fees and other items. She said Smith, since 1923, had been supporting Miss Meade and several times had entertained her in their home at Great Neck.

Feb. 13, through her attorneys, Mrs. Smith made a second attack. She filed the alienation of affections suit against her husband's former stenographer, but the fact that this suit had been filed was not made known until yesterday.

From Feb. 13 to March 2, process servers tried vainly to serve Miss Meade with a copy of the complaint and a summons. Attempts were made to serve her in a hair dressing shop at 27 East Fifty-fourth street, known as Steward-Meade, Inc., without avail. Attempts at her home were equally unavailing.

Mrs. Smith's lawyers asked Justice Alfred H. Townley to allow substitute service and he signed the order yesterday. Substitute

DICTATE TERMS OF FARM RELIEF

Will Outline His Views in Message to Extra Session and Then Let Congress Work Out Its Plan.

By the Associated Press.

WASHINGTON, March 15—President Hoover has no intention of undertaking to dictate either the terms or the name of the farm relief bill to be considered at the special session of Congress—a measure which he expects will form the basis for a solution of the agricultural problem.

While he will outline his views on the subject in his message at the opening of the extraordinary session April 15, he looks to the House and Senate Agricultural Committees to work out a constructive measure from the various proposals which have been or will be submitted for their consideration.

Meanwhile, he will hold himself in readiness to consult with members of the committee at any time that may direct him to do so. He already has talked about farm relief with a number of the congressional leaders. Frequent visits by members of the agriculture committee to the White House during the formative stages of the legislation are expected.

To Let Congress Alone.

The President's plan of relationship with Congress on farm relief is an indication of the course he will follow on other legislation. He holds to the constitutional stipulations that the separate and equal branches of the Federal Government and consequently feels that the administrative branch should refrain from undertaking to influence the legislative branch unduly in the performance of its functions.

There has been conjecture of late as to what name the new farm measure should bear with the suggestion made in some quarters that an unfortunate psychological effect might be produced if it bore the title "McNary-Haugen," the same as the bill which twice was vetoed by President Coolidge.

This argument is thought to carry no weight with President Hoover, who naturally expects it to be introduced in the Senate by Chairman McNary of the Agricultural Committee, and in the House by Chairman Haugen of the Agricultural Committee, and so take the name of the author as is the almost invariable custom.

McNary Bill to Stand.
The McNary bill, which was introduced at the last session of Congress and failed of action after both President Coolidge and Mr. Hoover had refrained from urging its passage, probably will form the basis at least for first consideration of the whole relief question by the Senate committee.

This measure has been described as the original McNary-Haugen bill with the constitutionalization feature added. It provided for an revolving fund of $250,000,000 for use in controlling the exportable surplus of the major crops and also for the creation of a farm board and of stabilization corporations.

During his campaign, Mr. Hoover outlined a program calling for the creation of a farm board and farmer-owned corporations to be orderly marketing processes and the protection of the producers from seasonal glut and to care for the surplus of their crops. A number of plans already are before the House Committee, which soon is to begin hearings on the whole subject at which additional ideas to effectuate relief are expected to be presented. The present hope of the committee is to have a measure ready for the House by April 20, at the latest.

So far as the Senate is concerned, indications now are that one of the highly controversial points will be the amount that will be placed in a revolving fund. Some of the Senators from the Northwest want four or five times the sum proposed in the McNary measure and there may be some difficulty in reconciling the extreme and conservative views.

GENERAL INCREASE IN CRIME
IN NEW YORK CITY IN 1928
Deeds of Violence Jump From 6733 to 7878; Convictions Also

NEW YORK, March 15—The number of crimes of violence in New York during 1928 showed a sharp increase over 1927, the annual report of the police department, made public yesterday by Commissioner Grover A. Whalen, disclosed.

In 1928 there were 7378 crimes of this sort, as compared with 6733 in 1927, the report said. Under crimes of violence were listed murder or manslaughter, felonious assault, armed robbery and burglary. Grand larceny cases reported totaled 20,558 for 1928 as against 18,233 for 1927.

Commissioner Whalen, in making the report public, said that the total number of arrests for all classes of crime during 1928 "shows a big increase, totaling 454,332, as compared with 416,719 in 1927." Total convictions showed an increase of 25,182, or 11 per cent, he said. He declared that the police obtained 3 per cent more convictions for assault and robbery in 1928 than in 1927, and 166 more convictions for burglary.

The expenditures for the department were $47,918,725 in 1928, an increase of $2,022,629 over 1927.

'ROBOT' STRIDES OVER CAMPUS OF WASHINGTON UNIVERSITY

One of the Features of Engineering Students' St. Patrick's Celebration.

A mechanical man strode about Washington University campus today as part of the student engineers' celebration in honor of their patron St. Patrick, who in his robes as senior academic doctor, is to his honor at 12:30 p.m. on the main quadrangle.

It was whispered that the mechanical man had human aid from the inside for his striding, but otherwise had the genuine features of the "televox" automaton. ("It"—it was part of an exhibit, from 1 p.m. to 11 p.m., today, of engineering advances which occupied five buildings of the university group.

The celebration will close tomorrow night with a masque ball in Francis Gymnasium and coronation of the engineer's queen, who has been chosen by secret ballot.

WOMAN SLASHED, WIFE OF BROKER IS HELD

Police Find Pair in Chicago
Gold Coast Apartment—Husband Missing.

By the Associated Press.

CHICAGO, March 15.—Mrs. Paul Ellsworth, whose husband is a Chicago broker, was arrested in their Gold Coast apartment last night. Detectives found her bending over Miss Mildred Rogers, 23 years old, who had been cut across the face and shoulders with a knife.

Ellsworth, the detectives were told, had been in the apartment a short time before, but he was not found.

Mrs. Ellsworth was taken to the Chicago Avenue Police Station and charged with assault with a deadly weapon. Shortly afterward Emil Witten, attorney, appeared and signed bond for her release.

Neither Mrs. Ellsworth nor Miss Rogers, who was taken to a hospital, would discuss the affair. Police said that Miss Rogers came to the apartment in the absence of Mrs. Ellsworth and that a cook in the apartment notified Mrs. Ellsworth of the circumstance.

At the hospital Miss Rogers' injuries were said to be not serious, although physicians said they might result in permanent disfigurement.

CONVICT'S RELEASE FROM PRISON UNDER INQUIRY

By the Associated Press.

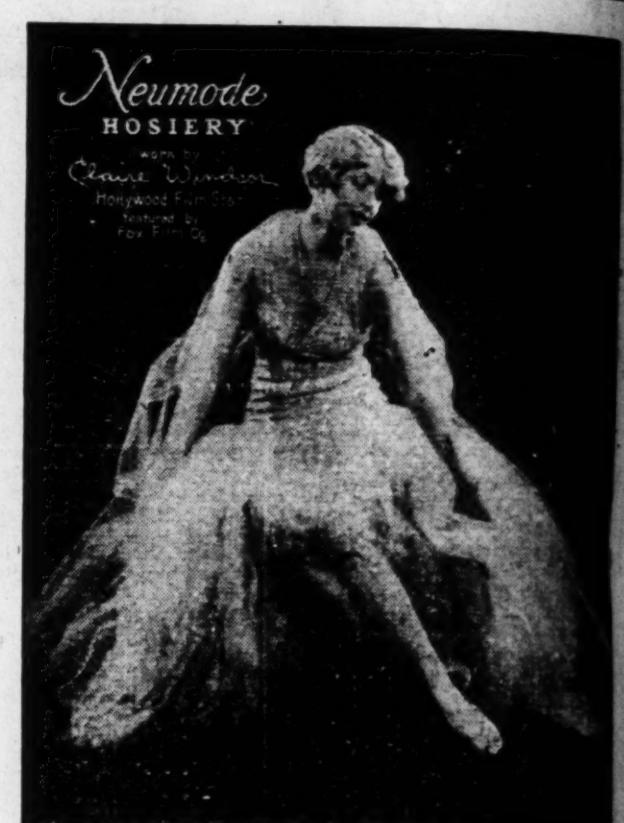

DANVILLE, Ill., March 14.—Investigation by the Attorney-General in Washington of the release from Leavenworth of Hayes Van Gorder has been asked by United States District Attorney Baker here, who also announced today he had asked Warden T. B. White of Leavenworth to explain. The tip that Van Gorder was enjoying his liberty came when Baker read in a St. Louis paper of Van Gorder's arrest at Union, Mo., on the charge of mail robbery and conspiracy or other blanks in his possession.

At the time Van Gorder was sentenced he was brought here under guard from the penitentiary.

where he was already serving sentences imposed in United States District Courts in Missouri and Iowa.

Judge Walter C. Lindley, after sentencing the man to 15 years in the penitentiary, added the following order: "It is further ordered by the Court that the foregoing sentence shall commence and take effect immediately upon the expiration of the sentences, which the said defendant is now serving in said penitentiary." Copy of the sentence and order was furnished the Warden at the time, and neither Judge Lindley nor Baker have ever been notified of any higher court reversal or any action by the Federal Board of Pardons. Van Gorder was sentenced here Sept. 8, 1927, for altering

SEEKS TO AGREE ON REPARATION TERMS IN MONTH

Young Committee Sets Tentative Time Limit at Middle of April—Action Considered Hint to Germany.

By ARNO DOSCH FLEUR. Paris Correspondent of the Post-Dispatch and New York World. Copyright, 1929, by the Press and Pulitzer Publishing Co. (The New York World and the St. Louis Post-Dispatch).

PARIS, March 15.—Without settling an absolute time limit, the Young committee has decided that an agreement for a final reparations settlement should be signed about the middle of April. As no bargain over reparations payments has been concluded, and as Dr. Hjalmar Schacht, head of the German delegation, has made an offer which has been generally discussed, the tentative time limit is interpreted as a gentle hint to Germany to get ready to accept what the experts consider a reasonable figure.

The more interested of the experts, principally the Americans, but also the British, are reported to think that an equitable figure for the annual payments to be made by Germany is about $400,000,000, mostly in gold, but partly in kind.

Perhaps only half this amount would be in unconditional gold payments. Germany's creditors are prepared to allow Germany to make a large portion of the payments on a conditional basis as the reparations bank project, as developed by the experts, has removed most of the importance from the question of what proportion of the payments shall be conditional and what portion unconditional.

To Establish German Credit.

Whatever annuity Germany agrees to, it is thought that she will pay without difficulty, because the international bank will establish Germany's credit on a firm basis.

While the experts are drawing up the bank plan in detail, Dr. Schacht has a breathing space in which to bring the German people to the conclusion that they had better sign up with the experts, who are ready to make a compromise, rather than deal with the Allied Government, which still stand on the Dawes plan, calling for annual payments of $600,000,000 and containing a provision for an increase in this amount in accordance with Germany's "index of prosperity."

The disadvantages for Germany, if the experts' conference were to end without a definite settlement of the reparations problem having been reached, would be many.

Results of Failure to Agree.

First, there would be the possible withdrawal from the market of call money. Second, there would be the danger of a failure to renew three and six month loans. Third, there would be the scarcity of money in general and a possible industrial crisis if money were tight. Fourth, there would be the menace to the stability of the mark itself.

On the other hand, signing of an agreement reached by the Young committee would not mean easy money of all kinds at bank rates, freedom from control by an agent general for reparation payments, evacuation of the Rhineland and assured prosperity for Germany.

The decision between these two alternatives is up to German leaders, and it is thought that Dr. Schacht has most of these with him for a reasonable compromise. If he has agreement in principle will be reached before Easter, and as soon as an agreement, based on the bank plan, is drawn up, it will be signed.

WEEKLY PLANE SERVICE
FROM LONDON AND CAPE TOWN

Line Will Be 6000 Miles Long, as India.

By the Associated Press.

LONDON, March 15.—Arrangements have been concluded for a second Great Imperial Air Transport Line, the two being approximately the same distance and being by far the longest regular services in the world. Sir Samuel Hoare, Air Minister, announced in the House of Commons yesterday that arrangements had been concluded for a service between London and Cape Town. A service between England and India, also approximately 6000 miles, has been operating for some time, a provisional air route having been issued for this some weeks ago.

Negotiations between the various African Governments, particularly the Union of South Africa, for inception of a weekly air service between London and Cape Town have been brought to a successful conclusion, the Air Minister announced. The South African Government has expressed its willingness to contribute substantially toward the expenses for a period of four years and otherwise will render full co-operation in the scheme.

Other administrations concerned, in the Sudan, Tanganyika and Uganda, have also offered to contribute financially.

Chickens Steal Two Years.
BENTON, Mo., March 15.—Bee Borden and Jesse Snider, youths of the Bledgett vicinity, entered pleas of guilty to stealing chickens and were sentenced to two years each by Judge Frank Kelly of the Scott County Circuit Court.

SENATE RECEIVES BUREAU OF BUDGET AND REVENUE BILL

First Step Toward Caulfield's Reform Program Transfers Collection of 3 Classes of Revenue.

COMMISSION OF 4 PROPOSED IN ACT

Department Given Authority to Check Payrolls, Transfer Employees and Supervise Expenditures.

By CURTIS A. BEITS,
A Staff Correspondent of the Post-Dispatch.

JEFFERSON CITY, March 15.—With the introduction in the Senate today by Senators Cave of Fulton and Donnelly of Lebanon of the special joint committee's bill to create the new department of budget and revenue, the first definite step was taken toward carrying out Gov. Caulfield's program for a reform of the inefficient organization of the State government.

Although the bill as it came from the committee did not meet the Governor's idea as to the political organization of the department, which will be left to the present State Tax Commission.

In this department will be grouped all of the tax commission duties, and in addition all duties connected with the assessment and collection of the income, inheritance and corporation franchise tax. This consolidation of activities is in the interest of economy, those duties now being performed by separate departments.

For Effective Budget Authority.

Of outstanding importance in the measure, however, is the provision for creation of an effective budget authority, the committee apparently having found a means of limiting departmental expenditures regardless of the amount appropriated for a department by the Legislature.

It had been the theory of many legislators that as the Missouri Constitution made it impossible for the Legislature to enact a budget law which would limit in any way the power of the Legislature to appropriate any amount it desired, there was no way a real budget could be made effective. The committee seems to have solved the problem by a provision requiring that before any department shall make any expenditure or incur any obligation in excess of $100,000, it shall obtain from the budget and revenue department a certificate that to meet the obligation there are sufficient funds on hand that are not otherwise encumbered to pay obligations already incurred.

Full authority is proposed to be given the department to keep an accurate check on payrolls, to transfer employees from one department to another to meet emergencies, and to require the production of all information necessary for the preparation of a budget.

BUREAU OF BUDGET AND REVENUE BILL

COMMISSION OF 4
PROPOSED IN ACT

By CURTIS A. BEETS,
A Staff Correspondent of the Post-Dispatch.

JEFFERSON CITY, March 15.—With the introduction in the Senate today by Senators Cave of Fulton and Donnelly of Lebanon of the special joint committee's bill to create the new department of budget and revenue, the first definite step was taken toward carrying out Gov. Caulfield's program for a reform of the inefficient organization of the State government.

Although the bill as it came from the committee did not meet the Governor's idea as to the political organization of the department, it is not anticipated that the difference between the executive and the committee will seriously interfere with its passage. The differences undoubtedly will be ironed out, and the committee's bill is defeat more likely will be due to the opposition of State job-holders and officials, who object to any curb on their activities and their control of expenditures, than to politics.

The committee's proposal is for a committee of four, two from each of the major political parties, to have control of the department, which will replace the present State Tax Commission. In this department will be grouped all of the tax collection duties, and in addition will be included the assessment and collection of the income, inheritance and corporation franchise tax. This consolidation of activities is in the interest of economy, those duties now being performed by separate departments.

For Effective Budget Authority. Of outstanding importance in the measure, however, is the provision for creation of an effective budget authority, the committee apparently having found a means of limiting departmental expenditures regardless of the amount appropriated for a department by the Legislature.

It had been the theory of many legislators that as the Missouri Constitution made it impossible for the Legislature to appropriate any law which would limit in any way the power of the Legislature to appropriate any amounts it desired, there was no way a real budget could be made effective. The committee seemingly has solved the problem by a provision requiring that before any department shall make any expenditure or incur any obligation in excess of $200, it shall obtain from the budget and revenue department a certificate that to meet the obligation there are sufficient funds on hand that are otherwise unexpended to pay obligations already incurred.

Full authority is proposed to be given the department to keep an accurate check on payrolls, to transfer employees from one department to another to meet emergencies, and to require the production of all information necessary for the preparation of a budget.

Supervise Accounts. Expenditures.

The commission is authorized to prescribe the forms for accounts and financial reports of all departments and sub-divisions depending State funds, and to audit the accounts and expenditures to require a complete list of all employees, to investigate the organization and administration of the departments, and to prescribe the forms for the preparation of budget estimates.

Governor Opposes Bipartisan Board.

It is not considered likely that the Democratic Senate will assist in obtaining the equi-partisan character of the commission provided in the bill as reported by the committee. Gov. Caulfield is known to object seriously to it. It is his intention to insist upon majority party control of the commission, on the theory that the responsibility for the proper conduct of State affairs rests with the Governor, and that he should not be restricted in the selection of commissioners by being compelled to appoint as many from the minority party as from his own party.

BAD FIRE AT ISHIKA, JAPAN.

Not later than Sept. 15 before each session of the Legislature, the budget and revenue department shall deliver to each state agency the forms on which requests for appropriations shall be made. They are to be returned to the department not later than Oct. 10.

Influential Senators on the Democratic side of the Senate, while they believed the equi-party control to be advisable, they would not insist upon that to the point of endangering the measure. It can be amended on the floor of the Senate to meet the Governor's wishes in this respect.

It is believed that if the bill encounters serious opposition, the danger will come in the House, where Speaker Parker, Representative Elmer and a number of other leaders are either outspokenly opposed to it or are lukewarm in their support. It is in the House that the attention of witnesses and documents. Failure to comply with an order, to respond to a MELLON EXPECTS U. S. TAX SURPLUS FOR FISCAL YEAR

Both Income and Corporation Payments Likely to Exceed Previous Period, Treasury Predicts.

By the Associated Press.

WASHINGTON, March 15.—Indications that the expectations of Treasury officials that income and corporation taxes this year would equal, if not exceed, those of last year would be realized, were given today in a statement by the Treasury.

The statement showed that on March 13 income taxes paid to the Government totaled $7,512,639, an increase of $2,949,000, the amount received on March 13 of last year. Miscellaneous internal revenue taxes also showed an increase aggregating $2,221,657 on March 13 while they totaled $1,337,000 on the same day last year.

The total of the income taxes paid the Government this year has mounted to $45,214,847 as against $42,130,225 for the same number of days of last March.

Internal revenue taxes collected this month, however, were less than the amount collected for the same period last year. Including March 13, the total for the previous year was $41,658,757, while last year they aggregated $42,458,000.

Employees of Internal Revenue offices throughout the country today faced the annual last-minute rush of thousands of the 4,000,000 persons who must file income tax returns before midnight tonight. At the same time, they were called upon to receive the last returns of nearly 500,000 corporations, whose taxes are expected to surpass those of last year despite a reduction of 1½ per cent in the rate they must pay.

Of the corporations filing returns, a little more than one-third are estimated to have received sufficient incomes last year to put them in the taxable group.

Of more than 4,200,000 individuals who must have their returns in the hands of the collectors or in the mails before midnight, 1,700,000 will not have to pay anything because their incomes were below the taxable limits.

Secretary of the Treasury Mellon expects the returns to show that the Treasury will finish the fiscal year next June with a comfortable surplus on hand despite the fact that a deficit has been threatened.

To provide such a surplus, Treasury officials are looking to the returns from the reduced corporation tax to swell the total above the amount received last year. They expect that the individual returns will about equal, or total a little less than the amount received last year, but that the corporations, because of an unusually prosperous business year, will pay more taxes at the reduced rate than at the higher rate of previous years.

The first quarter's payments of income tax for last year total $597,177,52, with a total return for the calendar year of $2,169,417,231, but taxes this year, Mellon says, are exceeding the estimates set by the tax experts.

Thus far, for the first nine months of the fiscal year, ordinary receipts have been $422,807,100 less than expenditures. The receipts have totaled $2,276,361,756, while the expenditures have aggregated $2,700,168,56.

Subpoena or to testify is punishable by a contempt action in the Circuit Court.

In addition to its powers to demand reports from departments, the State Auditor is required to receive a statement of the balances in each fund at the close of each fiscal year, and the State Treasurer to file a copy of his balance sheet at the same time.

ESTIMATES MUST BE APPROVED.

In curbing the power of departments to expend the money appropriated to them by the Legislature, the measure, in addition to requirement that there be a certificate from the department for each expenditure in excess of $200, provides that no appropriation shall become available until there are submitted quarterly estimates of the amount required, and the estimate shall have been approved by the budget and revenue department.

Clerks to Read Hoover's Message.

By the Associated Press.

WASHINGTON, March 15.—President Hoover will send his first message to Congress by messenger for reading by the clerks at separate sessions of the House and Senate. The custom of addressing Congress in person, initiated by George Washington, was revived by Woodrow Wilson, who delivered all of his messages in person, until illness made it necessary for him to keep to the White House. President Harding followed this example and President Coolidge went to Capitol Hill to read his first annual message.

STIMSON STOPS AT HONOLULU
ON RETURN TO UNITED STATES

Calls Proposal to Levy Import Duty on Philippine Sugar "Inconsistent and Illogical."

By the Associated Press.

HONOLULU, March 15.—Henry L. Stimson, who will relinquish the Governor-Generalship of the Philippines to become Secretary of State in President Hoover's Cabinet, arrived here yesterday from Manila aboard the steamer President Pierce. He received an official welcome and departed late in the day for San Francisco, where he is due March 20.

Stimson expressed the belief that the American people would not

"sanction a tax upon the Philippines' most important product—sugar." This, in his opinion, would be contrary to the modern trade method of handling dominions and dependencies.

Stimson praised the Philippines leaders for the ability they had shown in their cooperation which had rendered him. While not committing himself upon the question whether the Timber-lake resolution to restrict imports of Philippine sugar to 500,000 tons annually would bring up the Philippine Independence issue again, the Governor-

General asserted that the proposal to place a tariff against Philippine products was "inconsistent and illogical."

He compared the tariff proposed with the action of King George III in placing a tax upon tea for the American colonists. The tea was considered a luxury, while sugar is

SPY SYSTEM IN U. S. PRISONS INVESTIGATED BY MITCHELL

Borah Protests to Attorney-General; Warden Snook May Be Forced to Resign.

By the Associated Press.

WASHINGTON, March 15.—The practice of using "under cover" agents in Federal penitentiaries is receiving the study of Attorney-General Mitchell in connection with the refusal of Warden John Snook of the Atlanta penitentiary to co-operate with the Department of Justice in this system.

Senator Borah (Rep.), Idaho, protested yesterday to Mitchell against continued use of the "spy" system. Borah is a member of the committee which has been investigating the use of "under cover" agents in Federal penitentiaries.

With the bill actually on its legislative road, the right will be taken squarely to Gov. Caulfield to exert the full administration influence to prevent its defeat by minor officials of his own party.

While there are indications that the department may ask the resignation of Warden Snook because of his views on this question, there has been no indication from the new Attorney-General that he is ready to sanction the "spy" system.

The formation of the committee took place simultaneously with the monthly meeting of the Voluntary Committee of Lawyers in which were told by George E. Worthington, counsel for the Committee of Fourteen, that vice conditions and illegal liquor traffic will grow worse unless the prohibition law is repealed.

Hoover to Nullify Law.

Frederick C. Bellinger, who was an assistant under former United States Attorney Buckner, explained that the members of the committee hope to nullify the drastic Jones law in the same way that this was accomplished to all practical purposes when the Government tried to obtain convictions of night club owners charged with conspiracy. Federal juries invariably refused to convict in these conspiracy cases, and Bellinger said his committee hoped to "educate" juries to do the same thing when citizens are tried under the Jones law, which provides a possible penalty of five years in prison and $10,000 fine for any law violations except possession.

Cordert said his committee might be helpful in "aiding juries to perform their invaluable function of preserving civil liberties." He added.

"Since the sale of a glass of beer has been raised to the dignity of a felony carrying penalties similar to those provided in this State for assault and manslaughter, it was thought best to form a committee to assist those who have done nothing condemned by civilized society and who might be subject to such severe penalties."

SAFETY IS NOT WRONG.

Intruders are not wrong. While it may be illegal it cannot be made wrong by any statute as it is not condemned by moral sentiment nor inherently dangerous to others. To endeavor to penalize such acts by the infliction of penalties hitherto only applicable to serious moral infractions brings the whole criminal law into contempt and handicaps its administration.

"We propose to fight this measure with the same vigor that the New York bar displayed in the case of the act which was known as the Fighting Slave Law."

Other lawyers listed on the committee are Adrian Larkin, Gordon Knox Bell, William De F. Manion, Frank C. Fisher, Kenneth O'Brien and Edward Lombard.

Another meeting will be held shortly at which plans will be effected to give assistance to bartenders, who form the majority of those arrested under the new dry law.

On March 4, 1933, the list of signa-tors will be presented to President Hoover.

Of Making Many Books JOHN G. NEIHARDT

A Refreshing Book

BY Martin Johnson. (Putnam.)

UCH a book as "Lion" seems a godsend to one whose job it is to grope about in the agitated mists of contemporary literature for a gleam of simple sanity, only to find, for the most part, the same old ridiculous romantics or nihilistic psychologizing by psychopaths.

Perhaps the most astonishing thing about this book is that there is a woman in it who actually is represented as an all-around human being and not as a mere man-trap! This seems incredible, but it's the simple truth, as any reader may discover for himself. Furthermore, the woman is actually the author's wife (after 20 years of wedlock) and their relationship is one of fine comradeship. Can you imagine such a "re-actionary" book in this advanced age?

Perhaps the amazing situation may be explained by citing the fact that in real life there are still many women who aren't to be described as man-traps, and who, as wives either are dependable comrades or would be if our civilization permitted.

Thanks largely to the movies—and this is at least one thing in favor of a still somewhat questionable industry—the Martin Johnsons are known to nearly everybody as the intrepid pair who hunt wild beasts in Africa with cameras. "Lion" is the story of their expedition into the Tanganyika country last year.

And what a book of adventure it is! Were it not for the unimpeachable reputation of the author and the corroborating photographs, many of the ridiculous narrations would be considered impossible. Considering that African hunters are unanimous in describing the lion as the most dangerous of beasts, fancy taking many photographs of a lion at a distance of five or six feet! "I was using a six-inch lens when I started photographing the old lioness," writes Mr. Johnson. "Then I changed to a four and finally to a two-inch lens—the shortest focus that I possess. By this time I could not get in her entire body. Surely no tramped ever got so close to a wild lion before—and lived to tell the tale. To be sure, we were in a car. But that wouldn't have saved us from being torn to pieces had the lioness chosen to attack."

And this while Mrs. Johnson was at the wheel, steadily moving the car closer, the radio almost touched the beast. At all times it was Mrs. Johnson's extremely hazardous duty to be ready with her rifle while her husband was busy with the camera; and more than once she met the charge of a lion like the hero that she is. No, not heroine! Why make a sex distinction in the fundamental human virtue that is compounded of faithfulness and courage?

There was one incident of the sort that makes one's blood leap gloriously as one reads. Mrs. Johnson had left the car alone, bent upon "getting" a particularly fine specimen of a lion—the largest the adventurers had ever seen. The beast retreated slowly, the woman following eagerly. At a distance of 75 yards he turned and charged. Roosevelt has testified that a charging lion can make a hundred yards in three seconds. This one had covered half the distance when Mrs. Johnson fired and missed—an unusual proceeding for her. What happened then should be left for the reader to learn.

In addition to their many adventures with lions, the Johnsons were fortunate in witnessing the great migration of wild animals that occurred in the Tanganyika region last year—at least 10,000,000 moving in a solid body with a front 10 miles across! They not only witnessed the migration but drove deep into the mass of animals, photographing as they went.

Thrilling as are the extraordinary adventures described in "Lion," there is something better in the book to thrill. That something which is rated as very old-fashioned just now, need not be pointed out to those who can appreciate it. The others cannot be told.

PEACH BLOSSOM. By Hugo West. (Longmans.)

Martinez Zuñiga, who writes under the pen name of Hugo West, the most popular writer of the Argentine, and his books are now being translated and brought to the attention of English-speaking readers. In "Peach Blossom" he tells a most moving and tragic story, the central character of which is Rina, a village girl. Although the plot itself is not particularly ingenious or original, it does give one a feeling for the country which he describes and for the rude, uncultivated people who live there. He tells his story simply and directly, with light, deft touches that are free from extravagance and melodrama. F. G.

And we have his word for it that the experience is no fun. To be an ambassador of a neutral country and to be situated between two other nations, expecting that any moment they will fly at each other's throat, is far from being the most pleasant thing in the world. That was Mr. Kaufman's last word, and was at his post in La Paz during the recent disturbance between Bolivia and Paraguay.

The American minister is back in the United States after 10 months of service at La Paz. We sat with him for well over two hours the other afternoon and heard him describe in detail what took place in Bolivia last December when the crisis between Bolivia and Paraguay arose.

DAVID W. KAUFMAN, American minister to Bolivia, knows what it means to see war clouds blacken the horizon and then disappear almost as quickly as they came.

ILLINOIS - MISSISSIPPI FLOOD STAGES COMING

Levels Won't Be Dangerous
"On Basis of Water Now in Sight."

Flood stages, but not danger stages, at points on the Illinois and Mississippi rivers, were predicted today by the Weather Bureau, "on the basis of the water now in sight." Further rains, even moderately heavy, would change the situation for the worse. Forecasters Hayes said.

"The Illinois River is above flood stage through its entire reach," the bureau said. "It will continue to rise for four days, but will not reach danger stages unless heavy rains fall over its drainage basin in the next four or five days."

"The Mississippi is above flood stage at Hannibal, and will pass flood stage at Grafton (mouth of the Illinois) with 19 feet by next Tuesday," flood stage at Grafton being 18. The stage at Alton Tuesday will be 21 feet, or exactly flood stage. At St. Louis Wednesday it will be 25 feet, five feet below flood stage. At Chester Thursday, 25 feet, two feet below flood stage.

"The Missouri River is rising; the crest will reach Kansas City tomorrow. The Missouri will go close to bank-full stage, but will not overflow except where the banks are low. Heavy rains would change this."

The Meramec and other tributaries, Missouri streams, are at comparatively low stage so far.

The Automobile Club of Missouri reported today that road conditions throughout the State were generally bad because of recent heavy rains.

THREE OF FOUR ZEITINGER MILLS DECLARED BANKRUPT

Inventor Himself and Gravity Realty Co. Considered Solvent by U. S. Judge

Three of the four flour mill enterprises of Christian J. Zeitinger, an inventor of 40 Benton place, were declared insolvent in an opinion by Federal Judge Paris today, but Zeitinger himself and the fourth company were held to be solvent. Bankruptcy proceedings accordingly were instituted for the three ventures.

Investors, including Zeitinger's brother, George, had petitioned to have the four enterprises and the inventor himself declared bankrupt. The court ruled that Zeitinger was reasonably solvent and that there was no showing of insolvency as to the Gravity Realty Co., and the suit was dismissed as to these two defendants. The firms adjudicated bankrupt are the Gravity Mills Co. of North America, the Zeitinger Industrial Development Co., the only one of the companies which is incorporated, and the Capitol Trust.

Except for the one corporation, the ventures are partnerships or common-law trusts. Judge Paris said in his opinion that the bondholders were interested in them to the extent of making them just as liable as Zeitinger for their debts, he said, adding that there probably was no doubt of Zeitinger's own liability.

Zeitinger has a four-story model of his flour mill, designed to revolutionize the flour industry, in his home.

WALSKA GETS JEWELS BACK

Articles Held When She Refused to Pay Duty Returned to Her

NEW YORK, March 15.—Ganna Walska, wife of Harold F. McCormick, was ousted at 12-mile limit today by the liberty limit of $2,000 worth of jewels. The jewelry was delivered aboard the Paris shortly before the ship sailed after having been sequestered in a customs warehouse since Mme. Walska arrived in this country last year. The jewel case, 12 inches long, six inches high and six inches wide, was placed in keeping of the purser by customs men who cautioned him not to give it to the owner until the ship was outside American waters.

Mme. Walska refused to pay duty on the jewels when she entered the country, claiming the right to bring them in as property of a foreign visitor. She took the case to court where the seizure of the jewels was upheld on the ground that Mme. Walska could not claim Paris as her residence inasmuch as she was the wife of a resident of Chicago.

O K ON COURTHOUSE INTERIOR

The Board of Public Service today formally approved the plans, prepared in President Roosevelt's office, for the finishing and interior completion of the new courthouse.

Expenditure of $500,000, in addition to the $4,000,000 bond issue appropriation, has been authorized by the Board of Estimate and Apportionment.

Calls Lindbergh Ideal Man.

BUFFALO, N. Y., March 15.—Col. Charles A. Lindbergh comes nearest to being the ideal man, in the estimation of Fielding Post, addressing Hutchinson High School pupils today, he said his ideal was a boy who was intelligent, independent, energetic, dependable, purposeful, alert, modest, frank, deliberate, quick of reaction and congenial. Lindbergh possessed all of those attributes, the Michigan football coach declared.

Says Wife Threatened His Life.

Forest W. Flora of Overland, a switchman, filed suit for divorce on the ground of general indignities against Mary Catherine Flora, today in Clayton. He alleges that she threatened to kill him while they were in church, walking down the aisle shouting, "Your name shall be no more, I am going to kill you." They have one child and he has two by a former marriage.

PUTS U. S. EXPORT OF AUTOS AT 1,000,000

John N. Willys Looks for Heavy Sale Abroad This Year.

Exports thus far this year warrant the prediction that 1929 may see 1,000,000 American-made automobiles sold in other countries, according to John N. Willys, chairman of the Export Committee of the National Automobile Chamber of Commerce, who stopped in St. Louis yesterday on his way from the Pacific Coast to Toledo, O.

Willys, who is president of Willys-Overland, Inc., said that his own company had a 200 per cent increase in exports in January, as compared with January, 1928, and 100 per cent increase in February. This month, he declared, it would export fully 75,000 cars.

In 1927, a total of 643,262 American cars were exported, while last year's exports were more than $10,000.

The National Automobile Chamber of Commerce recently opened an office in Paris to assist American motor car manufacturers in their invasion of Europe. Financing companies are being organized in foreign countries to work with American automotive exporters.

Building of good roads is progressing with increasing rapidity all over the civilized world, and this is having direct effect on sales of American-made automobiles and trucks. Argentina, for example, Willys pointed out in report, has a $250,000 road-building program. Brazil and other South American countries also have ambitious plans. Co-ordination of railroad and motor transport, to open up more remote regions in Latin America, Australia and Mexico, is creating a growing market for speed trucks as well as motor cars.

Willys was returning from Los Angeles, where he was present at the opening of a new factory which was the first move in an expansion project that eventually is to put Willys-Overland assembly plants in the principal centers of this country.

MAJ. LAMBERT TO SUPPORT MILLER IN MAYORALTY RACE

Critic of Airport Says by That He Means Merely That He Will Vote for G. O. P. Nominee.

Maj. Albert Bond Lambert, whose criticism of the Miller administration's handling of plans for the $2,000,000 municipal airport was the subject of campaign speeches by former Mayor Kiel during the mayoralty primary campaign, announced today that he would support Mayor Miller for re-election.

"I am not in politics and my criticism of the handling of the airport plans was constructive, and not for the purpose of helping any candidate," said Maj. Lambert. "The point I raised, that the professional services of experts should be employed to draw a general plan, has been accepted by the city and an ordinance is now being drawn to authorize the hiring of two concerns of experts. The controversy is therefore closed and, as a Republican, I will support Mayor Miller."

Maj. Lambert said the extent of his support would be to vote for Mayor Miller.

ST. LOUIS POST-DISPATCH

Diplomats Will Not Have To Haul Their Liquor

Special Ruling of State Department Keeps Ambassadors From Riding on Trucks Carrying Embassy Stocks.

By PAUL Y. ANDERSON,
A Staff Correspondent of the Post-Dispatch.

WASHINGTON, March 15.— Foreign diplomats in silk hats and frock coats will not be required to drive whisky through the streets of Washington after all, as the result of a decision reached yesterday by the State Department. The ruling deprived Washingtonians of the prospect of many a good show, but it brought profound relief to the diplomatic colony.

Heretofore local trucking companies have been employed to deliver liquor to the embassies and legations, much of it being hauled over from Baltimore.¹ After the passage of the Jones act, however, the State Department conveyed a warning that henceforth diplomatic immunity would not be granted to the truck men by local enforcement officers.

Since none of the embassies or legations own delivery equipment, and since few if any of the Ambassadors have had any experience in driving trucks, a serious problem was presented. Any order which cut off the supply of diplomatic liquor would not only seriously deprive the foreign officials, but it would seriously deprive many American officials. A conference was held, and it was tentatively decided that the embassies and legations would join in the purchase of a truck, to be at the service of all.

Meantime, a concrete case had arisen, calling for prompt action.
A truck load of diplomatic liquor had arrived in Baltimore, and had to be delivered at once. Probably not since the Washington disarmament conference has any event been regarded with such suspense in diplomatic circles. Hasty pour-parlers were conducted, assurances and reassurances were sought and granted, and finally a member of the diplomatic colony set out for the district boundary line with his pockets bulging with official documents.

Where the Baltimore road enters the district a large truck was waiting. The diplomat descended from his limousine, and instructed his chauffeur to follow behind.
Then he ascended to the seat of the truck, and the honest American truck man, breathing a sigh of relief, got out. With all the caution born of inexperience, and all confidence based on the formidable documents in his pockets, the diplomat steered the whisky truck to its destination.

When word was received at the State Department that this performance actually had taken place, there was another consultation among the greatest thinkers there, and finally the word was sent out yesterday afternoon that diplomatic immunity, after all, could be stretched to cover the truck and truckman provided he was properly registered, authorized, approved and credentialed in advance. So driving a whisky truck will not be listed among the qualifications for diplomatic service in the United States.

INQUEST OVER WOMAN
FOUND DEAD IN BATHTUB

East St. Louis Police Think Mrs.
Gertrude Daniels Died From Electric Shock.

An inquest will be held in the death of Mrs. Gert. de Daniels, 33 years old, proprietor of a rooming house at 1609 East Broadway, East St. Louis, who was found dead in her bathtub yesterday afternoon.
An extension cord from an electric heater lay across the edge of the tub with the plug, disconnected from an overhead socket, in the water near the dead woman's head.
There were several burns on her head.

Police expressed the belief that Mrs. Daniels, in pulling the plug from the socket, had grabbed a section of the cord which was poorly insulated, the current passing through her body before the plug was fully disconnected.

Mrs. Daniels will be buried at Flat River, Mo. She is survived by her husband and three children.

Rabbi Berlin Says There Is Chance night in the farewell address of his visit here.

Orange plantations, the wine industry and the harnessing of the

ST. LOUIS YOUTH ARRESTED
AS AID OF WOMAN IN THEFT

Popular Bluff, Mo. Resident Now Facing Charges of Giving Poison to Third Husband.

Special to the Post-Dispatch.

POPLAR BLUFF, Mo., March 15.—
Mrs. Nora Edwards, facing charges of administering poison to her third husband, J. E. Edwards,

82 years old, is under arrest today in connection with the theft of merchandise valued at $600, from the home of John Miller, next door neighbor in North Poplar Bluff.
Mrs. Edwards was making a search of her home during which officers found much merchandise identified by Miller as being his.

Miller said he left Mrs. Edwards in charge of his home when he and his wife departed in December for Texas after closing out a small community store in South Poplar Bluff and storing merchandise in his home.

Mrs. Edwards implicated a St.
Louis youth, who was arrested in St. Louis last night on orders of Sheriff Ray McCown. He will be returned here.

Mrs. Edwards had failed this morning to obtain $1000 bond. She has never been tried in connection with the alleged poison case and two weeks ago the Butler County grand jury recommended that the body of Forrest Edwards, her stepson, be disinterred for examination.

He died soon after she married Edwards.

ANNOUNCING

NOW science has made gardening easy! Not since the famous Jack planted his amazing Beanstalk that grew to the skies over-night, has man been presented with the means for developing such healthy growth as will come to your plants from JAX Triple Strength Plant Food.

Easy to Apply

Recognizing the fact that plants can absorb only liquid food, JAX engineers have developed a scientific, labor-saving appliance which makes JAX immediately effective. While JAX can be applied just as it comes from the package or, preferably, mixed with dry sand or fine soil, it is most effective in solution. For this purpose, the JAXOMETER was developed and with it you can feed your lawn or plants as you sprinkle.

Lovely Flowers — Velvet Lawns

JAX will give your lawn the luxuriant green beauty of the professional golf course. It will make your flowers grow faster, more rugged, more beautiful — and give them longer life. It will mature your vegetables earlier, and make them larger, more tender and luscious. JAX will make your shrubs hardy and rugged. It will make your trees leaf early and profusely. Potted plants will flourish and blossom quickly and beautifully when fed with JAX.

Scientifically Correct

Thousands of laboratory experiments and extensive field tests make JAX the product of scientific study of plant growth. It has been thoroughly proved under the most exacting conditions and may be depended on for remarkable results. It measures up to the highest standards of value for a general plant food established by the United States Department of Agriculture.

The absence of useless bulk and inactive ingredients makes it possible to pack JAX with Triple Strength in small, convenient packages.

JAX is on sale at all good dealers. Your druggist has it in tablet form for potted plants and in suitable packages for small garden plots. Good hardware dealers, florists, seed stores and department stores carry it in all sizes—tablets, one-pound and five-pound packages, and 25-pound bags. Start feeding JAX to your lawn, garden and flowers today. The development of your plants in one short week will amaze you!

HYDE ADDRESSES FARMERS OVER RADIO

New Secretary of Agriculture Declares Hoover's Policies Will Aid Tillers of Soil.

By the Associated Press
WASHINGTON, March 15.—Arthur M. Hyde, Secretary of Agriculture in President Hoover's Cabinet, last night spoke his first words to the farmers of the nation.

Utilizing a radio hookup of more than 20 stations, the former Secretary of Agriculture said the agricultural problems were national in scope and that the "solutions, or lack of solutions, of them will be national in effect."

Hyde, a speaker on the American Farm Bureau radio community program, said he had taken over the duties of the Agriculture Department with "full realization of its difficulties and with solemn recognition" of his own limitations.

"I want to work with you," he declared. "I want the department to render an increasing service to the farm."

Secretary of Farm Program.

The new Secretary, however, saying he wished to make effective the policies outlined by President Hoover in his public addresses made no reference to a farm program. Neither did he refer to the forthcoming special session of Congress which is to convene primarily to devise a means of benefiting the farm industry.

Of the Hoover policies, however, he predicted that "they will achieve a larger measure of prosperity for the farmer."

The Secretary described Agriculture as "America's greatest industry." He said the American farmer was efficient but that agriculture problems did not end on the farm.

"Many problems only begin there," he continued. "After the farmer has successfully met the problems of production, there remain serious problems of marketing and of distribution on such a basis as to return to the farm adequate compensation for the service rendered. We have learned the lesson that the individual farmer can not successfully grapple alone with all the problems of his entire industry."

"Perforce, the farmer must speak through some agency which reaches beyond his fine lines, out into the markets of America and of the world. That agency is his farm organization. Steadfastly the farm organizations have stood for better rural conditions, better schools, higher living standards. They hold promise of restoring the control of the whole agricultural industry to the farmers themselves."

With the House and Senate planning to begin committee hearings on farm relief legislation embodying the views of President Hoover as early as a week from Monday, Secretary Hyde has found himself in a round of conferences on the subject.

Confers With Hoover.

The new Secretary conferred for two hours yesterday with President Hoover on farm relief. Previously he had talked with a number of farm leaders and plans to confer further with them before consideration of the bill begins in the House and Senate.

Last week Hyde conferred with Senators Nye of North Dakota and Brookhart of Iowa on farm relief.

In addition, he has talked with Representatives Dickinson (Rep.), of Iowa, Fort (Rep.) of New York, Clark (Rep.) of New York, and Newton (Rep.) of Minnesota. All are members of the committee which will have charge of the bill.

Next week the Secretary has conferences scheduled with Senator McNary who will steer the bill through the Senate and Representative Haugen, chairman of the House Committee on Agriculture.

CREDIT, ONCE ARISTOCRATIC,

HAS BECOME DEMOCRATIC

Credit, "aristocratic" because it demanded property ownership, has become "democratic" with the development in the last 25 years of small "character loans" to wage earners. Dr. Isaac Lippincott, professor of economics at Washington University, said yesterday in an address before the fifth annual convention of branch managers of the Citizens' System of Industrial Lending at Hotel Jefferson.

"Small loan concerns, properly conducted, are social institutions as well as money-making organizations," Dr. Lippincott said. "Credit reacts on the character of the borrower by making promptness of payment and regularity a work a habit. It teaches thrift and borrowers frequently become investors in such companies."

"Small loan companies, the person of small means to make purchases immediately, stimulate business, for the person who saves his money to buy an article is likely to change his mind about the purchase when he experiences difficulty in saving the required amount."

The meeting will close today following a program which includes a discussion by John C. Tobin, vice president and counsel of the Citizens' Finance Co. of St. Louis, on "Legislative Matters of Interest to Citizens' System Companies."

A friendly suit to recover title to property at 619 Clayton avenue was filed yesterday by Justice of the Peace Joseph L. Schuler against the estate of his son, Fred Schuler, who died last May. The petition states that Schuler deeded the property to his son "as an asset to enable him to better carry on his business" and that his widow, Mrs. Esther W. Schuler, had disclaimed interest in it.

FEMININE JURY FINES WOMAN BOOTLEGGER

Assessed $900 Against Defendant in Wynne, (Ark.) Court.

WYNNE, Ark., March 15.—Twelve women jurors found Mrs. J. Rose guilty of possessing liquor for sale and imposed a fine of $900 yesterday.

When Mrs. Rose, whose two-story, many-roomed home was raided by an officer, appeared in court, her attorney demanded a jury trial, something unusual in justice court procedure. Justice Ed Pearson, anxious that the attorney be granted his request and further that the letter of the law be complied with pertaining to a "jury of her own peers," empanelled a venire of women.

On the table, in plain view, was the "evidence," four bottles of homebrew and three half pints of liquor. The attorney for the defense asked the Court for a change of venue. This was denied, and he argued a few minutes before picking up his hat and walking out, leaving his client to the mercy of his sisters.

The Court instructed the jury that a maximum fine of $1000 could be imposed in case the woman was found guilty. After a few minutes' deliberation, the jury returned a verdict of guilty and assessed a fine of $900. Later one of the jurors explained that they "knocked off $100 because they felt sorry for the poor woman."

This was the first all-women jury in Cross County, and one of the few in the State.

SEGRAVE PERMANENTLY QUITTS
AUTOMOBILE RACING FIELD

Englishman Goes to Miami to Attempt to Establish New Speed Record for Motorboats.

DAYTONA BEACH, Fla., March 15.—Maj. H. O. D. Segrave, who earlier this week set a new world's automobile speed record of 231 miles an hour, will leave here today for Miami, where he will compete with Gar Wood, American motor boat builder, in speed contests to be conducted in Biscayne Bay.

Prior to his departure Segrave announced his permanent retirement from the automobile racing field. He plans in the future to devote his energies to the cement business with motor boating as his favorite hobby.

By the Associated Press.
LONDON, March 15.—Maj. H.
O. D. Segrave, British racing driver, was highly praised last night by the Prince of Wales for setting a new world's speed record at Daytona Beach, Fla., speaking at a dinner of the Institute of Transport, of which he is honorary president. The Prince said:

"I would like to describe Segrave as a hero. I had a look at the Golden Arrow a few days before he sailed for America and had a chat with him. I think without exaggeration that we can put his effort to regain the world speed record as one of the bravest, one of the most sporting efforts ever made. We can only sympathize with him that the only thing that marred this wonderful success, this great triumph, was that his opponent from our friends over the other side, his American opponent, was killed."

NEW ATTACK PLANNED
ON 18TH AMENDMENT

Rhode Island Act Would Test
Constitutionality in U. S.
Supreme Court.

By the Associated Press.

PROVIDENCE, R. I., March 15.—Plans to have Rhode Island attack the constitutionality of the eighteenth amendment were instituted in the General Assembly today, when an act was introduced in the House authorizing the Attorney-General to bring action in the highest court of the land. It would direct the Attorney-General to proceed immediately to question the constitutionality of the amendment as it affects Rhode Island.
It is said to have the support of the Republicans.

The resolution "authorizes and directs the Attorney-General to commence to carry on such action, suits and proceedings, and to take such other steps as he may deem wise, for the purpose of securing the determination of the Supreme Court of the United States upon the question whether, in 1775, the people of America, making their national Constitution, gave to the State Legislatures exclusive sovereignty that belonged to that one people. After all, all matters of national legislation against human rights, and whether, in 1919, in the assumed exercise of that sovereignty, 36 of those state Legislatures validly made a new supreme law of the land, known as the eighteenth amendment, a national law against human rights for all America in a matter not enumerated, by the one people of America and in the Constitution they made."

UNIVERSAL SOON TO HAVE

Additional Equipment Also Ordered for St. Louis and Other Training Schools.

By the Associated Press.

CHICAGO, March 15.—A fleet of 30 tri-motored air liners costing more than $2,500,000, ranging in carrying capacity from 12 passengers and two pilots to 32 passengers and two pilots, will be in operation over the lines of the Universal Aviation Corporation as soon as the ships can be delivered, it was announced here last night.

Six tri-motored ships are now in operation, nine are in process of delivery, and contracts are being signed for the remainder of the fleet of 30. In addition, orders also are being placed for additional equipment for Universal's three aviation schools at St. Louis, Minneapolis and Marion, Ill.

Contracts were signed yesterday for five F-10 type 12-passenger Fokker planes to include every modern convenience from lavatories to ash trays, free cigarettes and easy chairs.

The Universal concern now operates mail or passenger lines or both between Chicago and Cleveland, via Toledo; Chicago and Minneapolis; St. Louis and Chicago; St. Louis and Kansas City, and Cleveland and Louisville; and tended to Omaha as soon as lighting of mail routes in that section is completed by the Government, it was announced.

WANTS ILLINOIS PRISON LABOR TO MANUFACTURE AUTO TAGS

Senator Boyd of Galva Says Such a Plan Would Save Millions to Taxpayers.

Special to the Post-Dispatch.

SPRINGFIELD, Ill.—Making of automobile license plates in Illinois penal institutions is sought in a bill introduced by Senator Boyd of Galva.
Boyd also would have them distributed through the County Clerks of the various counties rather than by the Secretary of State.

"Such a system would save millions of dollars to the taxpayers," Senator Boyd declares.

His bill proposes that material for the plates be shipped to the penal institutions, where the plates would be manufactured. The name of each county would be printed on the plates for that county and the plates would be sent to the County Treasurers, who would issue them and remit rent to the State Auditor.

"This plan already is in effect in several states," Boyd says. "In Illinois it would eliminate the large automobile force in the Secretary of State's office."

Taxing of chain stores is provided for in another bill introduced by Senator Boyd, which now is awaiting committee action. He proposes a license fee of a certain percentage of their gross receipts.

"Of 12 groceries in my city, five are chain stores which contribute nothing to the advancement of the community," Boyd says.

The bill is expected to stir up bitter opposition from the chain stores.

AT CALIFORNIA POLLS

Three Referendums on Question of Establishment of State Development Board Defeated.

By the Associated Press.

WASHINGTON, March 15.—Efforts of the California Electrical Bureau, an organization maintained by power concerns, to defeat referendums on the water and power act in that State were related yesterday in testimony by Victor M. Hartley, the bureau's executive secretary, at the Federal Trade Commission's inquiry into public utilities of private power utilities.

Hartley testified that the bureau took no part in opposing the legislation in the 1924 referendum, but added that in April, 1925, its members, at the time, directed the campaign for the power companies and made reports to the late John A. Britton, first vice president and general manager of the Pacific Gas & Electric Co. In the 1926 referendum, Hartley declared in reply to questions by Robert E. Hays, commission counsel, the bureau's advertising campaign "includes mention of the benefits of private ownership."

The three referendums in 1924, 1925, and 1926 which were on the question of establishment of a State board to administer power developments in California, were defeated.

Hartley said Eltringham was paid his salary by the bureau in the referendum campaign but his expenses were met by contributions of the power companies. This occasioned a close cross-examination by Chairman Edgar A. McCulloch, of the commission, and Healy, who endeavored to ascertain from Hartley the basis of his view that the bureau took no part in the referendum opposition.

"Does that relieve your organization of the connection?" asked McCulloch.

"The bureau did not make the reports," Hartley replied.

"Are you in the habit of lending the services of your manager?" the commission chairman also asked.

"The only knowledge that the bureau had was the payment of his salary," Hartley answered.

SHERIFF STRODTMAN URGES INCREASE IN OFFICE FEESHe Asks Legislators to Vote for Bill Which He Is Sponsoring.

Sheriff Strodtman of St. Louis is sponsoring a proposed bill to increase the fees of his office in order that it will be more nearly self-supporting, and he was in Jefferson City yesterday speaking to members of the Legislature in an effort to get the bill passed. The bill has been referred to the Committee on Official Salary and Fees of the Senate. The Sheriff pointed out that fees for summoning jurors aggregate only $8.40 a panel, or approximately 5 cents for each juror. This amount was fixed, he said, when the city was small in area, when the jurors were mostly over 18 years of age, and when only 12 jurors were summoned. At present as many as 125 jurors are called, while the average is 75, he said. His bill proposes to make a charge of 50 cents for each juror. The Sheriff's office formerly was operated on a fee basis, but now the city pays all expenses, including the salary of the Sheriff and his deputies, and in return is entitled to all the fees earned.

Pointing Pistol at Child in Cradle
By the Associated Press.

CHICAGO, March 15.—Terrorizing the family by threatening to shoot the baby as it lay sleeping in its cradle, a burglar last night robbed Max Schwartz, a real estate dealer, of $1700 in jewels and cash. The thief, who said he was Albert Pianko, was captured by detectives 10 minutes after the burglary.

Schwartz was awakened by the gleam of a flash light in his face. The burglar stood over him with a drawn pistol. When Schwartz said he had no valuables, the burglar walked to the baby's crib and pulled the child out. The burglar clicked against an empty chamber. "There are two empty chambers, and four loaded," the robber said, "think fast." Schwartz produced his valuables and the burglar fled. He climbed into a cab outside just as a detective squad drove past. The cab was halted and Pianko found crouching in the rear seat. In his pockets were the valuables and a pistol with two empty chambers.

GEN. AGRAMONTE, 98, DIES IN MEXICO CITYVeteran of Five Conflicts was in Northern Army in U. S.
Civil War.

By the Associated Press.

MEXICO CITY, March 15.—Gen. Clarence Horace Montgomerie Agramonte, 98 years old, oldest American resident in the Mexican capital, died last night. He was a veteran of five wars and known as an orator and journalist. He was one of the most picturesque figures in Mexico City, a friend of Ambassador Morrow and beloved throughout the United States colony.

The General was a member of the famous charge of the light brigade at Balaclava in the Crimean War, and the siege of Lucknow in the Indian mutiny.

He was married three times and survived by a widow, a son and grandson in Mexico, by another son in Salt Lake City, two sons in London, and a daughter, Mrs. Clara A. Young of Los Angeles.

Twice Honored by France.

He twice received the French decoration of the Legion of Honor, once in the Crimean War and once from Napoleon III, when Agramonte was serving as a corporal on the staff of Gen. Phil Sheridan.

He served in the Crimean War, the Indian mutiny, the Maori uprising, the first Cuban war of independence and the American Civil War. In the Civil War he fought on the Northern side, most of the time with the Army of the Potomac.

He had been the friend of every United States Ambassador to Mexico for 40 years. On his ninetieth birthday, halo and heart, he smoked strong cigars and drank toasts to friends who called all day long to felicitate him.

A "Gentlemanly" character.

"I have no recipe for longevity except to enjoy life and like your fellowman," he then said. "I have smoked and taken drink in gentlemanly fashion all my life and I am not through yet. This is the most interesting generation in which I have lived. I expect to pass 100 years and still be going strong."

Gen. Agramonte was born in Havana, Cuba, the son of James George Montgomerie of New York and Ernestine Elvina Castillo y Agramonte of Havana. He was a practicing attorney and went to his office daily. He was frequently seen about the streets of the capital and at the American Club.

Agramonte was vigorous almost until his death. When Ambassador Morrow asked him how he was feeling, shortly after his ninety-eighth birthday, Agramonte replied: "I have had two fist fights within the last year. I am as good as ever."

A PLANKED FISH IS A MEAL IN ITSELFMany Things to Recommend It
Beside an Attractive Appearance.Planked fish or a thick slice of baked halibut served with a bo-net of fluffy mashed potatoes, small baked tomatoes and green peas, make a dinner that any hostess can be proud to serve. For the very best flavor, the fish should be spread with cucumber sauce just before serving; an onion soup serves as the first course; a crisp, mixed pineapple meringue pie, or a fruit Bavarian cream gives the necessary finishing touch.In any case the plank should be thoroughly heated by putting it in a hot oven for 10 minutes. If the fish is to be baked, the fish should be placed on it skin side down. Sprinkle the fish with salt, white pepper and spread lightly with melted butter. Bake in a very hot oven for 20 minutes. Meanwhile, stuff small tomatoes allowing one for each person to be served. Bake these for 20 minutes.Have ready four cups of hot mashed potatoes, which have been thoroughly seasoned with butter and the cream. Put a layer of mashed potatoes around the edge of the plank, using a pastry bag, or shaping the potatoes with two tablespoons. Put in the oven to brown quickly. Place the tomatoes on the plank in the space between the potatoes and the fish; arrange hot buttered peas between the tomatoes, and spread the fish with cucumber sauce. Serve very hot.Usually the plank is set in a metal holder, or it may be placed on a large platter. If the plank is available, much the same effect may be gained by using a large platter made of oven-proof glass and arranging the food on it in the same way. A slice of halibut, blue fish or mackerel may be prepared in exactly the same way.

Eggs in Spaghetti Nests.

Cook spaghetti in salted water until tender, keeping it in as long pieces as possible. When ready to serve, coil spaghetti on a platter to form rings or nests, drop a poached egg in center of nest, and if desired, pour over all a tomato sauce.

DON'T TALK ABOUT FOOD

People Get Awfully Tired Hearing of the Other Fellow's Diet.

In these days when there is so much talk, and so much gratuitous information given, in regard to food, some of us will have to be careful that we do not fall into the way of becoming somewhat obsessed on the subject.

No one enjoys talking with an individual who makes diet his sole topic of conversation.

An invalid may perhaps be pardoned for thinking of his diet with overdue emphasis, but the well-person who dwells upon it continually is only a bore to his friends and does not, himself, get the best use from his food.

PLANNING MENUS FOR THE COMING WEEK

Housewives Usually Find the Planning of Meals a Tedious Job.

Domestic duck are good this time of year, and offer a welcome change in the meat line. They are best when roasted, and the main difficulty in planning them for a meal, from the housewife's point of view, is the fact that they offer so little for another meal. Unless the family is very large, however, a salmi of duck can usually be planned for the next night. This makes use of all the bits of meat that can be scraped from the bones, left-over stuffing, gravy, and a stock made from the carcass.

The kind of stuffing used has a great deal to do with the flavor of the duck; one made from celery, after the recipe given elsewhere on this page, will be excellent. The duck gizzard and liver should be boiled until tender, chopped and added to the gravy.

Jellied salads are generally popular, and are especially convenient for Sunday night suppers because they can be made a day ahead of time.

The salad tomato salad chosen for this week's meal combines stuffed, hard-boiled eggs, and a few sliced olives with the tomato gelatin. The salad is molded for individual service, and is very attractive when turned out on watercress, and garnished with mayonnaise and stuffed olives.

The citrus fruits, apples and the dried fruits are still the standbys for breakfast fruits.

In some places hothouse spring fruits may be had, but they are very expensive and do not warrant their cost.

Grapefruit juice, chilled and served in the same way as orange juice, makes a little change if one is tired of eating grapefruit simply cut in half. A combination of grapefruit and orange juice is also good.

We have spoken before of the delightful flavor of steamed or stewed prunes that are served with fresh orange juice poured over them.

Eggs are a valuable part of the family dietary, and whenever possible, should be used in some way once every day. Now that they are getting cheaper all the time, it is a good plan to take advantage of the fact, and make as wide a use of them as possible. You will note that they have been used many times in this week's menus, alone, in combination with other foods, and in the making of desserts and sauces.

Cornmeal and Rye Gems.
Four-one-half cup boiling water over one cup cornmeal and let stand for 10 minutes. Sift one-fourth teaspoonful soda into one-fourth cup molasses and stir until it foams; add this to the meal and stir in one cup each whole wheat and rye flour, mixed thoroughly with two teaspoonfuls baking powder and one teaspoonful salt, alternating with one cup milk. Add one-fourth cup raisins rolled in a little flour and two tablespoonfuls shortening melted. Mix well. Bake in muffin pan half an hour in a moderate oven.

Spanish Rice.
Cook for 10 minutes in a double boiler one cup rice, two cups water and salt to taste. Place in a frying pan one tablespoonful drippings (preferably lard, to keep it white), one small onion cut in tiny pieces, three tablespoonfuls canned or fresh tomatoes, one small red pepper and one green pepper cut in medium size pieces. Use the fresh peppers whenever possible, otherwise pimientos. A few of the seeds are left in, but the white part of the pepper is removed so that it will not be too peppery.
Cook altogether for a few minutes, but do not brown, then add to the rice and cook for an hour and a half without stirring. When ready to serve, the rice should be white and fluffy, and of a thick consistency.

Cornmeal Souffle.
Heat one pint milk to the boiling point, then add one tablespoonful butter substitute and one teaspoonful salt, and gradually sift into this one-half cup cornmeal.
Cook until of the consistency of mush; remove from the fire and while the beaten yolks of three eggs, cook, mix longer, and when almost cool fold in the stiff beaten whites of the eggs. Add one-fourth teaspoonful paprika, two tablespoonfuls grated cheese and a little pepper. Put in buttered baking dish. Set baking dish in another dish of hot water in a moderate oven and bake 20 minutes.

Hamburg Steak on Onion Rings.
Mold meat into flat cakes and wrap each with a slice of bacon.
Place each cake on an onion slice in the baking dish, and broil under direct heat for five minutes on each side. Baste occasionally with the drippings. Serve at once from the baking dish.

COMBINE NOODLES WITH OTHER FOODS

They Can Be Used in the Same Way as Macaroni and Spaghetti.

Noodles because of their neutral flavor consistency, combine well with foods of other textures and high sharp flavors. Thus tomato, pepper, grated cheese, fish, oysters, clams and many vegetables, may be used with these pastes to result in a dish of more interest, color and flavor. Here are a few practical Lenten suggestions:

French Noodles. Take two eggs, one-half cup milk and deep fat for frying. Boil until tender one package of noodles, drain and chill.

Boil eggs slightly and mix with milk. Stir lightly into cooked noodle and drop in spoonfuls into deep fat. Fry until golden brown. For Sunday morning breakfast serve with little pig sausage.

Spinach With Noodles.

Take one peck spinach or one can, one-fourth pound cheese, one-fourth teaspoon salt, one-half pound cold boiled ham, one tablespoon butter, paprika and one package noodles.

Boil noodles until tender. Wash spinach very carefully. Then place in pan with just the water that clings to the leaves and allow to steam for a few minutes until tender. Drain thoroughly and chop fine. Add butter, salt and paprika. Mix ham and chopped ham, and place in center of platter. Surround with noodles over which grated cheese has been sprinkled. Bacon may be used.

Tuna fish and Noodles.

Cook a package of noodles until tender. Flake a can of tuna fish and add noodles to fish. Add about a cup and a half of white sauce to fish and noodles and bake in casserole.

SEVERAL LUSCIOUS DESSERTS WITH PINEAPPLE FLAVOR

Enticing Flavor of This Fruit Appeals to Young and Old.

Pineapple fluff is easily prepared in the refrigerator. Take one can of shredded pineapple and eight marshmallows. Cut marshmallows in small pieces and mix with pineapple. Let stand in bowl for one hour, then pour into refrigerator compartment for a two or three hour stay. Serve with whipped cream.

Pineapple Shortcake.

Very delicate pastry, slightly sweetened, or a simple butter cake, may be used for the foundation, upon which is heaped the following. One-fourth pineapple (which has been allowed to stand in water for several hours) diced very fine.

A cup of nut meats and finely chopped raisins, rubbed in powdered sugar, to keep them from sticking together, one pint of sweetened whipped cream. Just before serving, heap the cake of pastry with the whipped cream, to which has been added the fruit and nuts.

Tuna fish and Noodles.

Cook a package of noodles until tender. Flake a can of tuna fish and add noodles to fish. Add about a cup and a half of white sauce to fish and noodles and bake in casserole.

SPRING CALLS FOR BUILDING UP DIET

Winter Leaves Us Worn and in Need of Food That Gives Strength.

This is the time of year when most of us are more or less in need of exercising a little more care in the selection of our meals. This year especially colds, grippe and influenza have taken their toll and left behind them, in many instances, conditions that call for a building up diet.

All foods are, in a sense, building foods, but when your system has been exhausted from a continued cold, or from nerve strain or over work, it is especially necessary that you select an abundance of the foods that are rich in iron and lime.

Among the most important of these are the cereals, gluten and whole wheat bread, dried beans and lentils, milk, cream, eggs, spinach, lettuce and other green vegetables, tomatoes, orange and lemon juice, nuts, dates, raisins, lean meat, especially beef, buttermilk and cottage cheese. An easy list you will see, from which to build up appetizing and attractive meals.

Bran preparations are also of value in such a diet, since it is very important to insure a good regulation of the intestinal processes.

A good example of the meals that can be planned around these foods is as follows: For breakfast, first of all a glass of orange juice to stimulate the appetite, and also to furnish its share of the needed iron and lime. Next, a dish of oatmeal or any of the cereals, with four or five dates cut up in it and served with thin cream. This adds materially to the supply of minerals as well as contributing to the energy, fat and body-building foods required. A cup of coffee with cream, coffee or cocoa made with milk will do for the beverage and will further increase, even if very slightly, the percentage of necessary minerals. If a breakfast is wanted, use bran muffins, gluten bread or whole wheat toast.

For luncheon a casserole dish of dried beans or lentils and tomatoes, or a baked potato and a serving of spinach or some other cooked green with poached egg, or a tomato or vegetable omelet will serve as the main course. A raw vegetable salad—tomatoes and cucumbers, jellied tomato with diced celery, shredded cabbage, etc., are all good.

Plain bran muffins, date muffins or raisin bread, a glass of buttermilk and some canned or stewed fruit will complete the meal.

For dinner a vegetable broth thickened with rice makes a good beginning, follow this with a slice of lean rare roast beef or broiled steak, baked or mashed potatoes, string beans, an orange or grapefruit salad and a fruit gelatin dessert.

There are many other equally appetizing meals that can be selected from the list of foods given. These are merely suggestions.

The main thing is to see that the foods are adhered to, and that variety of them are used.

ORANGE MARMALADE IS NICE BETWEEN SEASONS SWEET

Made Either of Bitter or Sweet Fruit This Relish Is Delicious.

The following recipe is one used very successfully with bitter oranges. It is stronger in flavor than the other type of orange marmalade, and it has to be watched a little more carefully during cooking to avoid scorching. I think it best to make rather small portions at a time, using six to 10 oranges.

Orange Marmalade.

Select the smooth-skinned, bitter oranges, wash them and remove the peels in quarters.

Cook the peels until soft in boiling water to cover. Drain, remove most of the white part by scraping it with a spoon, then cut the peel in very thin shreds, using either a sharp knife or a pair of scissors. Cut the oranges crosswise in thin slices, removing the seeds and any very tough skin.

Measure the oranges and the shredded peel and add an equal amount of sugar.

Cover and let stand for several hours.

Heat slowly to the boiling point and then boil for about an hour and a half or until the mixture jellies when dropped from a spoon. Stir frequently during cooking to prevent burning.

Beef Fillets Mignon.

Cut the tenderloin into small fillets and marinate for two hours in French dressing, to which has been added one teaspoon onion juice, a small piece bayleaf and one teaspoon finely minced parsley. Remove from dressing and broil. Serve with mushroom sauce.

Grilled Bacon.

Place thin sliced bacon on a pie tin, or frying pan. Heat broiler to 450 degrees; reduce to 375 degrees, place pan under the broiler flame and cook five minutes. Remove from broiler, pour off fat, turn bacon and broil other side for five minutes. Remove to hot platter and serve.

GAME FEATURED BY ROUGH PLAY AND AIR TIGHT DEFENSE TACTICS

By James M. Gould.

According to a decision made today by the Board of Arbitration of the St. Louis Soccer League, the protest submitted by the Madisons on the victory by the Tablers on Feb. 24, was disallowed and the game stands as played.

The case arose over the playing of Jim McCarthy, Tabler forward, who, on the previous Sunday in the cup-game against the Bricklayers in Chicago, had been put out of the game by the referee. According to U. S. F. A. rules, any removed player is suspended automatically. The Madisons contend that McCarthy's presence in the February 24 game was therefore illegal.

In reaching their decision, the Board of Arbitration took into consideration the St. Louis Soccer League's by-laws which read that a protest on any game must be submitted within three days and be accompanied by a protest fee. The Madisons' protest, unaccompanied by a fee, was not submitted until nine days after the game.

Right of appeal from this decision was given the Madisons and they may make their request for reconsideration to the United States Football Association.

Thomas P. Cahill, secretary of the U. S. F. A., was present at the meeting today but, because of his official connection with the governing body, refused to take part in the proceedings.

Singer Meets Taylor Tonight In Return Bout

By the Associated Press.
NEW YORK, March 15.—Booked to exchange fistic salutations with Bud Taylor again, Al Singer, young East Side featherweight, tonight gets his chance to check the "whispering campaign" inaugurated against him by boys on the boxing rialto.

There have been whispers that Al is not particularly keen about taking punches on the body and that, as a result, he is a trifle over-cautious to claim he has been fouled.

He probably will have to take many a body punch before he gets through his 10 rounds with Taylor at Madison Square Garden to-night.

Singer won on a foul from Taylor several weeks ago. Taylor maintains that the punch for which he was disqualification in that bout was foul but that Singer took the easiest way out and claimed a foul. Singer is a 2-to-1 favorite tonight.

CHICAGO, March 15.—The stands of staid old Dexter Park Pavilion should be filled to capacity tonight. The "Big Shots" of show business are here from all sections of the country to compete in the American Bowling Congress tournament.

Sixty-four teams are carded on the 8 and 10:15 o'clock squads with a galaxy of stars on the program. Including these will be four teams from St. Louis. The Mound City aggregation will be headed by Judge Frank B. Grodski, president of the St. Louis Tenpin Association.

The program will have such stars as Joe Scribner of Detroit, world's match champion, who recently defeated Mort Lindsey of New York and Adolph Carlson of Chicago. Scribner is booked with the star Rishomes of Detroit on the late squad. Sixteen fast New York quintets will peg away on the early shift, mixing with the stellar combinations from St. Louis, Cleveland, Toledo, Mobile, Atlanta, Kansas City and Flint. Mort Lindsey, who rated among the best in the country, is carded with the Dwyers five of New York, while Joe Falcaro will captain the Cordes Metz, another Gotham entry.

Buffalo Team Takes Lead.

The lead of the Bowlers Journal five of Chicago was short-lived. After gaining the top honors by virtue of a 2,882 total, they were shoved down by the Sahlen Packing Co. team of Buffalo with a score of 2,926, last night. The Bison City five had games of 969, 954 and 1,003. With score of 2,857, the Arcadia Lunch of Cleveland rolled into third place.

The lull of a quiet afternoon was broken late yesterday when Jeff Davis of Chicago increased the gap to 723 total in the singles, climbing to a comfortable lead, which may bring him the individual honors of the meet. Davis had games of 221, 237 and 265. His big total in the singles also gave him a tie for the all-events with Pete Green, also a local pinner, with 1,871. Green shot consistently, getting totals of 613 in the fives, 619 in the doubles and 639 in the singles, as compared with Davis' 619 in the fives, 529 in the doubles and 723 in the solo event.

Contests of the pins will cease for a few hours in the afternoon while the American Bowling Congress convenes in its annual session to elect officers, pass several amendments to the constitution and select a city for next year's tourney. Columbus, Cleveland and Buffalo figure prominently among the choice selections and it is almost positive that one of these three cities will hold the A B C show next year.

Iowa U. Favored To Retain Title At Illini Relays

By the Associated Press.
CHAMPAIGN, Ill., March 15.—More than 800 track and field stars from 77 universities, colleges and high schools headed for Champaign and the twelfth renewal of the University of Illinois relay carnival today.

Twenty-six events are programmed for the carnival, which is generally regarded as the world series of national collegiate track.

Out-and-round championships, embracing seven events, open the carnival this afternoon, the noon hour, with the finals at night.

Iowa, Big Ten indoor champion for 1929, and Illinois, were heavy favorites to win team honors in the meet, although spirited competition was anticipated from other Big Ten members and stars from the Big Six Conference.

Among the leading performers, who are expected to three in several marks, will be Warne of Northwestern and Canby of Iowa in the pole vault; Simpson of Ohio State, Tim of Illinois and Elder of Notre Dame in the dashes; Maydon of Chicago, Allerton, John Rodgers of Illinois and Rockaway, Ohio State, in the hurdles. Illinois expects its greatest showing in the relays, of which there will be four for universities.

CHAMPAIGN, Ill., March 15.—More than 800 track and field stars from 77 universities, colleges and high schools headed for Champaign and the twelfth renewal of the University of Illinois relay carnival today.

Twenty-six events are programmed for the carnival, which is generally regarded as the world series of national collegiate track.

Out-and-round championships, embracing seven events, open the carnival this afternoon, the noon hour, with the finals at night.

Iowa, Big Ten indoor champion for 1929, and Illinois, were heavy favorites to win team honors in the meet, although spirited competition was anticipated from other Big Ten members and stars from the Big Six Conference.

Among the leading performers, who are expected to three in several marks, will be Warne of Northwestern and Canby of Iowa in the pole vault; Simpson of Ohio State, Tim of Illinois and Elder of Notre Dame in the dashes; Maydon of Chicago, Allerton, John Rodgers of Illinois and Rockaway, Ohio State, in the hurdles. Illinois expects its greatest showing in the relays, of which there will be four for universities.

$2,000,000,000 TURNOVER OF FUNDS TODAY

Quarterly Financing by Treasury, Tax Collection and Dividend Payments

By the Associated Press
NEW YORK, March 15.—The financial machinery of Wall street and the country was geared to high speed today to handle a turnover of approximately $2,000,000,000 in funds in connection with the quarterly financing of the United States Treasury Department, collection of income taxes and disbursements of dividends and interest by corporations. Estimates of the income tax collections run as high as $600,000,000.

Prominent activity in commercial buildings featured operations in the heavy construction industry and the total involved again showed a large gain over that for the same week a year ago, says Engineering News. A year ago, says Engineering News, contracts let in the United States for the week were valued at $1,250,000,000, contrasting with $50,000,000 in the corresponding 1928 week. Construction contracts total $1,100,760,000, against $619,220,000 in the 1928 period.

Continental Motors Corporation, Detroit, has called for redemption April 15 at 102 1/2 on outstanding first mortgage sinking fund 6 1/2 per cent bonds due March 1, 1939.

Stockholders of the Simmons company have voted to decrease the dividends to nine cents from 25. Most of the directors dropped their regional representation.

John W. Hanes of C. D. Barney & Co., New York investment bankers, has been elected president of the Motion Picture Capital Corporation of New York and Los Angeles. The corporation has called for redemption April 15 at $28 an accrued dividend its outstanding preferred stock.

ST. LOUIS RESERVE BANK NOW HAS 593 MEMBERS

The Midland Savings Bank, 6155 Page Avenue, St. Louis County, Missouri, has become a member of the Federal Reserve Bank of St. Louis. It recently increased its capital to qualify for membership in the system. L. G. Dowling is president and P. M. Meyerick is cashier and secretary of the institution.

On March 12, the People's Trust Co., Little Rock, Ark., was admitted to membership in the Federal Reserve System.

The addition of these two banks brings the total membership of the Federal Reserve Bank of St. Louis to 592, of which 456 are national banks and 107 are state banks and trust companies.

On Dec. 31, 1928, the resources of the member banks in the Eighth Federal Reserve District aggregated $1,778,511,000, and represented over two-thirds of the resources of all banks in the district that are eligible to membership.

FURTHER ADVANCE IN THE PRICE OF COPPER

By the Associated Press.

NEW YORK, March 15.—Copper prices advanced further today in continuation of a movement that has carried the metal nearly 5 cents a pound in recent months.

Export copper was quoted at 29 1/2 cents a pound and domestic at 20 1/2 cents, an advance of one-half cent over yesterday and one cent for the week.

While domestic copper at 20 1/2 cents were late made yesterday, the export price was marked up this morning.

As both foreign and domestic buyers continued to demand the metal, regardless of the price advance, still higher prices were predicted in trade circles. Some observers expressed the belief bidding would add three or four cents to the present level.

ANTI-AIRCRAFT TARGET PRACTICE FOR MISSOURIANS 500 Members of National Guard to Train at Fort Barrancas, Fla., in July.

Special to the Post-Dispatch.
MOBILE, Ala., March 15.—Officers at Fort Barrancas, Fla., near here, will show more than $600 men of Missouri how to shoot down aircraft at a special gunnery school in July. Anti-aircraft target practice will be held during the latter part of July, when a regiment of National Guard infantrymen will come to Fort Barrancas for two weeks of training, according to Col. H. L. Butler, commander of the Pensacola Harbor defenses.

Forty-two officers and 800 men from all parts of the state will support the anti-aircraft training, Col. Butler said. Their training will be carried on along the beach at Fort Barrancas with tractor-drawn equipment. This will be the first time mobile equipment for anti-aircraft target practice has been used at the fort, Col. Butler said. Such training in the past has been given with stationary equipment.

The equipment will consist of 30-caliber machine guns, 75 mm. canister and an 80-mm. searchlight. Col. Butler said there possibly will be night target practice, as well as daylight practice. Sleeve targets towed by airplanes are to be used in the work.

FOREIGN TRADE NEARLY SETS A RECORD
Exports Reach $444,000,000 Best Showing in Last Five Years.

By the Associated Press.

WASHINGTON, March 15.—February foreign trade of the United States came close to setting new high records for the season. The Commerce Department today estimated that the month's exports amounted to $444,000,000, against imports of $371,000,000, and that the favorable trade balance for the month was $73,000,000. In February last year exports were $371,448,000 and imports $351,025,000, with a favorable balance of $20,413,000.

None of the February export figures in the last five years has equalled the total reported today, but it was exceeded in February, 1921. The import total for the month was exceeded in February, 1920.

The complete reversal of the gold movement of 1928 which began in January, likewise continued to influence the February showing. Gold imports into the United States were $26,912,000 for the month against exports of $1,425,000, leaving the net gain of the metal for the period at $25,488,000.

THREE STREET ORDINANCES APPROVED BY BOND COMMITTEE

One Provides for Widening of Broadway Between Pelham Ave. and Hall's Ferry Road.

The Citizens' Bond Issue Supervisory Committee Thursday approved three ordinances that would appropriate a total of $8,470 for street improvements out of bond issue funds.

For the widening of Broadway from 56 to 56 feet between Pelham Avenue and Hall's Ferry road and the repaving of the street with re-cut granite blocks, $57,140 would be appropriated, representing 45 per cent of the estimated cost, the balance to be assessed against the benefited property owners.

For paving Clark Avenue, between Seventh and Fourteenth street, with re-cut granite blocks, $25,449 would be appropriated, representing 25 per cent of the estimated cost; and for a cutoff at Eighteenth street and Chouteau Avenue, $15,896, which is the total cost.

Meditations
OF A Married Woman

By Helen Rowland

JUST AN ACCIDENT

THE marriage contract is the only contract a man will sign without bothering to read it over—much less, to consult a lawyer.

A life partner is the only partner a man will carefully cast his lot without even looking up her character, or considering her ability to fill the job, her past performances or her future possibilities.

And yet, everybody soft-hearted pities a man who is "married to the wrong woman." Everybody "feels so sorry for him." Why—I wonder.

A husband is a matter of chance or luck—just one of the wedding presents; something that happens to you like an inheritance or a spring cold. But a wife is a man's own fault.

A woman can't "pick out" a husband from a vast and varied assortment. She can only pick over what's offered and take the best of the lot. But a man can fill about the world, from one rosebud garden of girls to another, until he finds somewhere among the thousand specimens and samples, the One Woman who will fit into his life and make him happy.

If he closes his ears and picks her out entirely "by eye"—for the skin, the nose, the dimples in her knees—why pity him, because she turns out to be a gold-digger or a dancing toy or a dumb-bell with one brain cell and a vanity complex?

If he insists on marrying a woman simply because she amuses him and flatters him, why feel sorry for him where she refuses to cook for him or run a vacuum cleaner for him?

As long as he continues to fall in love with her, instead of with his heart and his mind, why mourn for him if he gets something beautiful-but-dumb, who bores him to death or worries him to death?

As long as he passes up the girl who admires and inspires him, in order to dance after some airy little temporary diversion who ties him to her chariot wheel, why weep for him, when he is "misunderstood"?

"If he had had the RIGHT kind of wife he would never have gone the pace, forged the check, played the races or gotten tangled up with the other woman," says the world.

Of course, he wouldn't! And if he hadn't eaten the lobsters or the mushrooms, he never would have had the indigestion. If he had not taken the cocktails he never would have had the headache. Sweet ap-please!

In the game of love a man holds ALL the winning cards. If he plays them with his eyes shut, when his life's happiness is at stake, what he needs is not pity, but an alienist! Save your pity for the "innocent bystander" who happened to marry.

Little Women's Sizes

ARE you a little woman? The figure under 5 feet 4 inches is considered less than the regulation size and should be fitted with garments that are specially proportioned.

In view of the fact that it is stated more than half of the American women are less than this height, it is amazing that numbers of women seek their clothes in departments of regulation size.

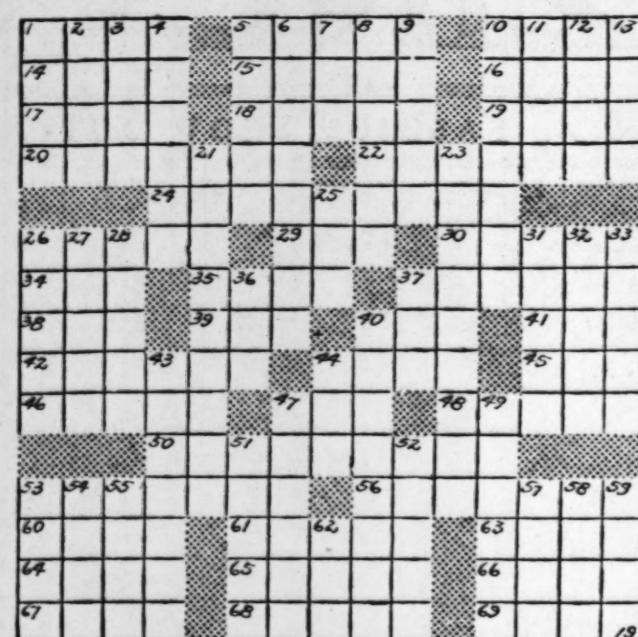

If you are slim or full figured, or just a happy medium, you will find little women's sizes to fit you and minimize the extensive alterations that ordinarily ensue when regular sizes are chosen for the short stature.

Perchance you have not been particularly pleased with the fit of frocks in the standard size of 18, 20, etc. Suppose you try a half size for an experiment in the misses' department. There are 14 1/2 to 21 1/2, and women's sizes 23 1/2 to 27 1/2. This half size may prove to be a much better fit about the bust, at the armholes, and the blouse lie smoother around the neck.

A Wonder Baby

OLD records cite the case of one juvenile wonder named Christian Heinicker, born in 1721, at Lubeck, who at the age of 10 months could speak and repeat every word said to him. At 12 months he knew the Pentateuch. In his second year he learned most of the Bible—Old and New Testaments. In his third year he talked history and geography. In his fourth year he mastered French. He was taken to Copenhagen before the King and proclaimed a wonder. He died June 7, 1726, from a weak constitution.

LOVE AND BE BEAUTIFUL

By Josephine Huddleston.

such traits of character showing in the face.

The next time some friend starts in on a long hymn of hate, watch her face carefully. Note how malicious, crafty, gloating lines alter your friend until she is almost unrecognizable. Then remember that you, too, look the same when you have a mad on against someone.

First the night robe was slashed off, to a point not far below the knee. Then the blower shed a few of its inches, evolving to the diminutive blimp. All other lingerie has shortened for the spring. Step-ins and combinations, whichever you prefer, are considerably briefer than of yore. Glove silk underthings and flatly trimmed thin crepes are designed to have no extra fulness.

That doesn't mean anything."

Easter Gloves

A complete palette of sun-tan tones in Easter gloves allows a wide choice for the color of the wearer's skin. It may match that of the blower, the worn or medium coloring, or the brighter, which may be deeper or paler, just as she wishes—only the shade harmonizes with the costume and the glove color is echoed in the stockings. Some shops are showing as many as five shades of sunburn, with face powder and hosiery that match to perfection.

After bathing the feet should be thoroughly dried, especially between the toes, as any moisture allowed to remain here is quite apt to result in soft corns.

If you think I'm crazy, sit around for half an hour thinking mean thoughts about someone you don't like. Then take a good, honest look at yourself in a mirror that is set so the cold, penetrating rays of bright daylight can reveal clearly the image of yourself that the mirror reflects.

All the lines in your face will point down, accentuating the hard setness of your face. And all of this devastation of beauty will have been brought about by the mean, petty thoughts you were harboring about someone.

This may sound old-fashioned and preachy, but it is the honest truth. We can't always love our enemies to the extent of turning the other cheek, but that they can take a good whack at it, too, but we can blot out these people from our lives and thoughts, and by doing so master one of the greatest secrets to perpetual youth and beauty that any one knows or ever will know.

Anger is another beauty-destroying element that should be checked out of our emotional pineapples. Anger draws the face into hard lines, wrinkles, with red blotches or large, red patches, and when these lines disappear after the emotion has cooled, a subtle imprint has been left. Repeated outbursts eventually etch a series of lines that spell penitence and irritability all over the face and one simply can't be beautiful with

Children's Bedtime Story

By THORNTON W. BURGESS.

THE OWL THAT LIVES IN THE GROUND

What matters it where you reside? A home is not a cause for pride.

—Billy the Burrowing Owl.

PETER had a lot to think of. He was becoming almost wistful. He sighed, "I wish I had wings," said he.

"What do you wish you had wings for?" demanded Wanderer. "But Short-ear has nothing to do with Billy. Billy is Burrowing Owl and likes a nice hole in the ground just as much as you do. So when nesting time comes Mrs. Billy looks around for a nice, comfortable hole that no one else uses. Sometimes it is one that has been dug by Digger the Badger. More often it is one that Yap Yap or one of his friends is through with. Wherever you find Yap Yap and his friends you are pretty sure to find Billy the Burrowing Owl, called 'Billy Owl' for short."

"Is he big?" asked Peter.

Wanderer shook his head. "No, said Peter. "I have more than once seen Hooty's cousin, Short-ear the Marsh Owl, sitting in the grass on the Green Meadows."

"But that isn't being in the ground," protested Peter.

"Granted, Peter, granted," replied Wanderer. "But Short-ear has nothing to do with Billy. Billy is Burrowing Owl and likes a nice hole in the ground just as much as you do. So when nesting time comes Mrs. Billy looks around for a nice, comfortable hole that no one else uses. Sometimes it is one that has been dug by Digger the Badger. Dinner on Easter Day

Easter is not like Christmas with the inevitable turkey. The following is a suggestion for a light, good dinner to tuck away until the eventful day. Chicken, bouillon, roast duck, candied sweet potatoes, cauliflower au gratin, fresh green peas, hard-boiled egg salad with mayonnaise dressing, frozen eggs, macaroons, coffee.

Save the Soap

Eight and a half million women are employed in all but 35 of the 375 gainful occupations in the United States. The work done by these women will be graphically illustrated in each visiting field as agriculture, transportation, manufacture, trade, domestic service and even dispatching. Seven miniature color models will be used for the purpose. An interesting, however, from the Spanish standpoint will be the glimpse given into the life, on which an American woman runs her home. One of the three buildings housing our exhibits will be permanent and has been planned as the future residence of the United States Consul at Seville. It has been designed, then, as a model of modern domestic comfort and completely furnished with the very latest devices for labor saving. Happy the wife who day after day has, too, the country that has such women as these three to help explain its aims and ideals to the world in general. It is easy for the United States to amaze the foreigner with a show of industrial progress, but art and antiquity are quite another matter.

"We cannot," Miss Reppplier declared, "rival Peru or Mexico in rich and strange survivals of earlier civilizations, but we hope to supplement the commercial exhibits with one that shall be purely educational."

This will include a very small and very good art collection and moving pictures that shall represent the mythical union of the enduring and the instructive.

Miss Reppplier and Miss Bowell have already sailed for Spain, where they will remain during the exposition. Mrs. Upham hopes to have shortly for Seville. All three will be present at the formal ceremony, at which King Alfonso will declare the exposition open for the rest of the year. With them will be Commissioner-General Thomas E. Casper, former Governor of Arizona; Justice M. M. of Cheyenne, Wyo.; George T. Cameron, publisher of the San Francisco Chronicle, and John M. Denison, secretary of the commission.

MAN'S WORDS DISCOUNTED

By Dorothy Frooks

HE gave him all the money she had. He did not live up to his promise of marriage, so she took the step she was advised to take. In court she related her story. It was a civil suit. All she wanted at this time was the return of the money she had given to him. It was a loan since she expected it's return.

Many girls are swayed off their feet by the polished gentleman. His words flow so smoothly. The air castles he builds for her are so beautiful that she finds herself enamored of the architect. His affability and politeness make it hard for one to dislike him. Words seem to be little things that are quickly spoken and quickly lost.

The girl who accepts sweet words in return for her life's savings should be informed. Knowledge on her part would prevent many of these unscrupulous men from talking and taking.

The girl who knows such a man is dealing with a dangerous type. He can slide out of any situation when he wants to. He knows how to make an impression on the decent mind and it is not long before he shatters her romance. After obtaining her possessions, he is well on his way. If taken by surprise and confronted by the woman he is the one who seems to demand the apology. His suavity could get him out of any situation.

A man accepting the love of a girl on the strength of his deceitful promises should be recognized. The married man who poses as single should be a recognized type. These men crush the finest thoughts of girls and cause them great disappointment.

Girls should not be willing to accept the man because he appears to be well dressed. If he starts to take money from her under the assurance that he loves her, she should recognize the type of man he is. Before she parts with her possessions she might discount his words. She might even go far enough to see if he is telling the truth. If she is fully aware of his marital position she can use her judgment. After all, if a woman wants to have her money from a man who makes love to her, it is her own affair. If she depends upon his appearance and his artful manner of tricking the money out of her, she should be warned that he is a scoundrel.

If girls would think about it, they would notice that men who are termed "diamonds in the rough" never ask a girl for her money. It is only the insincere man who can talk his way into a girl's heart and then take money from her.

Modernistic Shower For the Easter Bride

MODERN art runs riot in our homes now, so why not give the Easter bride a modernistic shower?

The decorative scheme or this occasion would be a combination of striking colors. Red, Jade green, silver and black make a rich decoration; orange, blue, Jade green and yellow is another treatment; while cerise, purple, yellow and Nile green is effective.

Triangles made of black cardboard strips to form a frame with the openings laid with plain colored crepe paper, can be used as light shades. Use one just as a light screen, or fasten three together to form a shade. Cut out futuristic designs in contrasting colors and applique them on the plain crepe paper panels. Crepe paper in modernistic design is procurable, also napkins, and either of these might be utilized in the shades.

A striking centerpiece for the table can be made by cutting crepe paper strips into long points and arranging these in wide circular form, one on top of another, having the pointed frills in graduating widths. For these, use the various colors you have in the general decorative scheme. On the top arrange a cluster of gauze ribbon loops (this might be of silver), in the center of which have a pedestal, upon which place a miniature bride—present this to the honor guest.

Have the foods colored as far as possible. Delicious candies in the various colors are now obtainable and the most artistic receptacles for these in modern art among the shop displays.

Have the shower gifts presented by children attired in modernistic costumes. These can be made of crepe paper. For instance, have one in violet and canary yellow and the other in blue and red or cerise and Nile green, and use the modernistic crepe paper for trimming effects.

Gifts can be done up in wrapping paper—different colors may be used—and various shaped pieces of crepe paper pasted on the outside. The gifts should be presented singly to the children carrying each one between the arms, dressed in a basket for small articles. Their entrance with each gift should be announced in some novel manner, perhaps the blast of a horn or a march on the piano.

Selecting a gift will be easy, as there is not a room in the house where some article of modern art may not find a suitable place. Among these, table accessories are prominent, even to the linens and towels there are many charming modern art touches.

The New Shades

IF YOU are going to put up new window shades this spring take a look at those white home-spun before you buy. When grandma sees them she will be reminded of her girlhood home, for these shades are very like the ones that were fashionable then. They have the lower edge finished in deep, round scallops edged with narrow fringe. Of course, there is a long tassel attached to a cord as all shades had in those days long ago.

These shades are exceptionally pretty and in the shops they say they are finding great favor with housewives.

Fried Fish

The only possible way to fry fish crisp and brown without first dipping it into egg and crumbs is to dry it thoroughly, dredge with stones dry flour and dip it into boiling deep fat. In this way the fish will crisp all over at once and cannot help but be satisfactory.

Simple Science For Everybody

By Colin G. Welles, Ph. D.

A NEW FUEL FOR AIRSHIPS

WHEN an airship goes flying upward, it is pulled up and up by the helium gas which fills its balloon. And, in order to keep it from going up too fast or too high, the fliers must keep the weight of the ship pretty steady.

So formerly, when the engines of airships burned gasoline, it was necessary to add weight to the ship. This was done by elaborate mechanisms which were attached to the exhaust pipes of the engine, where the burned-up gasoline escaped as vapor, in order to change the vapor back again into water and so to weight the ship with it.

If something of the sort had not been done, the ship would have grown constantly lighter as the gasoline was burned up, and the helium gas in the balloon would have pulled it higher and higher. Sometimes the fliers were obliged to let some of the helium gas escape in order to prevent themselves from being carried so high that the balloon would explode. And the safer method was to make balance—present this to the honor guest.

Recently, however, a German inventor named Blau, devised a new fuel which could be burned in the motors. It is a gas and it weighs exactly as much as air, so it makes no difference in the weight of the ship. Any amount of gas can be taken in the ship in bags and after it has been burned in the motor there is no change in the weight of the ship.

Mr. Blau's discovery was a pleasant discovery for airships because it meant that the complicated machinery which changes the exhaust vapor into water need not be carried.

These discoveries mean that airships will be able to undertake much longer journeys for they will not be laden with the heavy supplies of gasoline or the tanks of water made from the exhaust vapor. It means that airships may soon be a safe and easy way of crossing the sea or of traveling long distances overland.

THE GARDEN IN SPRINGTIME

(National Garden Bureau)

DAHLIAS AND GLADIOLI

DAHLIAS are now the most popular annuals for the flower garden. There are now strains of gladioli which may be raised from seed and give bloom the first year if sown early. The named varieties, however, are by far the most satisfactory.

Dahlias are now rivals of the chrysanthemums in their huge size and great variety of form, resembling the chrysanthemum in giving small buttonlike blooms, single and anemone types, up to huge cabbage heads. Dahlias may be grown from seed as annuals as easily as similar big bell-shaped flowers. The big bell-shaped flowers need an early start and should be sown indoors by March, at least, in order to give a season of bloom worth while. The small bedding types such as Coltness hybrids need not be sown until May 1 outdoors. They will come into bloom the latter part of July or early in August. Sow in March, however, they will get going in June and furnish a sheet of color all summer. They are as colorful and as free blooming as the chrysanthemums.

Dahlias ordered now will not be ready until May but if the new and finer varieties are desired, it is safest to order at once. Growing plants are furnished until late June and the dry tubers are sent out earlier. There is little to choose between them as to garden success. Some gardeners prefer to bury the growing plants which have been propagated from cuttings and others prefer the roots. They bloom equally quickly.

If you are troubled with macaroni sticking to the bottom of the pan while boiling, put it into a wire sieve and immerse this in boiling water. To drain it, just lift the sieve with its contents.

The gladiolus is a sure fire bloomer and liberal plantings at intervals are certain to produce gorgeous color in the garden beginning with July and continuing through the season. They also

This Delicious Devil's Food

We Bake It to an Old Virginia Recipe

WILL YOU TRY IT?

Please read below why its flavor amazes housewives. Note also how it saves you money.

By ALICE ADAMS PROCTOR

MADAM: The Devil's Food offered here comes recommended to you by more than one million women. More than ten thousand housewives have written to us to praise it. To taste it is written to understand why.

In the opinion of several domestic science authorities, its flavor actually surpasses the original Virginia Devil's Food from which we took our recipe. Hence it makes home-baking a folly.

The ingredients also are unusual. They surpass in most ways those you can buy yourself. (Exactly what they are, we show in box above at right.)

Now for cost. You'll be amazed to discover that by buying this cake you save half the cost of baking it at home. In view of the rich ingredients used, this may seem almost incredible, until you learn how we reduce

OUR COSTLY INGREDIENTS
FLOUR. Made from the country's very choicest wheats. Specially milled for us.
MILK. Every drop pasteurized twice.
BUTTER. A fine grade of fresh creamy butter. It tests "go-sure" by United States Government standards.

our retail price by purchasing our ingredients in vast quantities.

It is known as a "Hostess" Cake. A brand name that has come to stand for the finest in bakery products.

So start, if you will, with our Devil's Food. Or, if you prefer, our Chocolate.

This is highly important if you want the kind of cakes described here.

CHAPTER TWENTY-THREE

"Let the Toes Tap."

It was purely instinctive, Felicia told herself afterward, that quick gesture which she wrote on the hand of the Desert Rat's hand. One cannot sit quietly and watch murder done! And the intended victim was, after all, her boy's father.

"Stephen!" she commanded, her arms about the old man's trembling body. "Dear Stephen, you mustn't! You can't do that!"

Brett had started back, cowed by the blazing ferocity in his enemy's face. Dick returned with Adrienne, J. B. and the child following.

"Please go, Alex!" Felicia said quietly to her husband, and Brett, ashen and trembling, entered his car and sped away.

Felicia and her friends turned back toward Reno. Felicia's head resting on Dick's shoulder, and little Alex asleep on Adrienne's lap, between J. B. and Stephen Pierce.

"Dick, I've got to get away from this, or I'll go crazy," Felicia whispered, desperately. "I've got to go somewhere where life is normal and decent and not a perpetual磨烦事。

Normal and decent!

The R-X Ranch was the haven for the really nice people who came to Reno. Sprawling wooden house, with verandas stretching invitingly about it, set where the mouth of the canyon widened to yawn into the broad desert. Cowboys—perhaps a bit more picturesque as to costume than was strictly necessary, since this was a Dude Ranch—gathered in groups, talking, laughing, or galloped about their work. At night, from their bunkhouse, came the sound of banjo or guitar, the melancholy melody of voices crooning songs of the West.

Little Alex was in ecstasy. Once he had wanted to be an aviator when he grew up; he had considered, for a time, the career of policeman. Now his only ambition was to ride a horse as though he were an integral part of the animal, and to roll a cigarette with one hand—preferably at the same moment. Brown as the horses which village roads near the ranch, he galloped about the yard on his pony, with the Desert Rat always at his side.

"Felicia, I'm never going home," Adrienne Henley-Martin told her daughter. In khaki riding clothes, her gray-brown hair gathered carelessly beneath a soft felt hat, and her regard for "the correct thing" suddenly brushed aside, Mrs. Henley-Martin was almost a stranger.

But a delightful stranger! Felicia smiled at her tenuity.

"To think that at 45 I've discovered what I've missed all my life!" "Well, you don't look 45!" her daughter retorted. "I won't tell if you don't!"

J. B. didn't think that Mrs. Henley-Martin looked 45, either—or, if he did, he must have thought that the perfect age of woman. Dick and Felicia, watching the two ride off in the direction of the Indian fort, shook their heads amusedly. What a pair!

Children shouted back toward the corral; a phonograph, within the ranch-house, was playing a Bach chord—music which mounted and swelled, drifting magnificently out toward the desert.

Felicia sighed happily. "Oh, Dick, it's home again! I love that background of sun and sand!" Like her mother, she was in riding clothes, slim legs encased in dusty high boots, slender waist encircled by a belt she had bought from one of the cowboys—a belt made of silver dollars, hammered to paper thinness.

Dick was playing with a handful of opals which Sam Lanier had brought back from the mine—his mine. He smiled. The East, with all its artificialities, seemed buried in a past long dead.

"It's hard to believe that people like Alex exist," Felicia said. But she shuddered as she remembered his threats. "Oh, Dick, do you think he can hurt us? Do you think he can?"

"What can he do, dearest? He can't stop your divorce, now—not after that petting party on the Tahoe road. And your boy is safe with Stephen!"

Felicia shook her head doubtfully. "There seemed nothing that he could do, but he was uneasy when she thought of him. The sheer hate that had distorted his face, there on the road that frightening night, was unforgettable.

J. B. sauntered into Dick's room that evening just before supper. "You seem to be giving Mrs. Henley-Martin quite a whirl!" Dick teased.

"She's a damned good scoundrel, that woman!" J. B. replied soberly.

"Dumb ass!" Dick staggered, overcome by mock amazement. "Love conquers all! Why, J. B. You old!"

"Oh, turn it off!" J. B. grunted. "Can't I like a woman?"

"Liking women is something you haven't done anything else but, I should say!" Dick retorted. "How about your Romantic Register—your book listing all the girl friends?"

Slowly, sardonically, J. B. replied. "That's one of the things I'm trying to forget."

Supper at a long table, served by Indian servants. Dimly-light.

under the refrigerator, it would be worth saving pennies and have a pipe attachment to the outside of the house connected with the drain of the refrigerator. It won't take long to save sufficient pennies and it will certainly prove a joy.

Bracing air drifting through open windows...

A white dress, Felicia was radiant. Her hair, bleached by the sun, was like gold.

"It's time to get back to the lake," Dick suggested later. And, arm in arm, they strolled past the corral, through the twilight to the beach. "What a lot we've been through together!" she murmured, and he nodded.

"I'm glad," he told her, soberly. "Nothing can separate us now."

"Nothing," she whispered. His arm encircled her waist, drew her to him.

Lake water whispering against the shore; stars bursting through the streaked sky, banishing the twilight. Close together, they sat and watched them; outlines blurred as the darkness gathered.

"Why can't we be married right away?" Felicia demanded. "As though Alex wanted to marry or divorce you to you! It's so silly, all this red tape of divorce! What can any Judge say that can make me more yours, or you more mine?"

Silently, he bent and kissed her. "You do belong to me, don't you?" he whispered, huskily.

"Dick!" Her arms were about him, straining him close; she was trembly.

Laws, arbitrarily made by man—what did they matter? Custom, convention—how could they count? These two were in the presence of a greater law, than any written down in books. Alexander Brettin, the man who had told her that they should keep these apart? Two strangers, whose lives once had touched them, but who were gone forever...

"Felicia!" He was crushing her, hurting her, and she gloried in the quick plan. "Mine—always."

Her eyes were wide with the solemnity of the moment. She nodded, then started at a cry raised somewhere back toward the ranch-house—someone calling her name. (Continued Tomorrow.)

CAMPAIGN FOR $25,000 TO BUY INDIAN RELICS

Group of St. Louisans Hopes to Keep Whelpley Collection in City.

A group of St. Louisans interested in the history of this section of the country has joined with the Chamber of Commerce in an effort to raise $25,000 to purchase, for the Missouri Historical Society, the collection of prehistoric Indian relics of the late Dr. H. M. Whelpley.

Mrs. Laura Whelpley, widow of the noted pharmacist and archaeologist, who died in June, 1928, has been offered three times that amount by out-of-town archaeologists, but she wants the collection to remain in St. Louis and has agreed to sell it to the society for $25,000, providing the members can raise the money by April.

The Whelpley collection, said to be even larger than the collection in the Smithsonian Institution, consists of several thousand objects gathered together during a lifetime. Archaeologists have usually given it a history of Indians. Among the large part of the collection is from Missouri and Illinois, the weapons of war and the instruments of peace of innumerable different tribes are represented.

Carved Pipe in Collection.

Among the outstanding objects is an Indian pipe on which is carved an athlete throwing a disc with his right hand while the left clutches a handful of arrows. There are various ceremonial objects, including a unique leaf-shaped obsidian slab used for countless generations by the Klamath Indians of Oregon, being handed down from father to son.

Stratford Lee Morton, a trustee of the Missouri Historical Society, and F. Blair Ridington, chairman of the Archaeological Committee, are leading the effort to raise the money. Morton said that with the aid of the Chamber of Commerce he felt almost certain that the collection would remain in St. Louis, where it rightfully belongs.

"The collection should be housed here," Morton said, "because it

How to Have Soft, Pretty White Skin

Many women will be glad to know that they may have beautiful, white, soft, pretty skin. There is this, however, that they have to do: the secret lies in rubbing a little liniment over the entire face, and then, just before retiring at night, in the morning you will be surprised at the pleasant transformation that has been made by even a single application. Icetincture made from a Japanese preparation that is simply marvelous. Regarding this beautiful preparation, I would say that it is a kind of work a woman should never neglect her skin and complexion. Many women have made themselves look years younger by these simple liniments, and it is a great thing of the wrinkles to the woman who will give sensible care to her daily toilet. A few applications of this liniment actually make any woman proud of her skin and complexion. It costs but little and is sold and recommended by good druggists everywhere.

KONJOLA ENDED
AFTER 9 MONTHS

Stomach, Liver and Kidney Trouble Had Defied Everything Until Kon-jola Was Tried.

What remarkable experiences, what wonderful recoveries are described in the stream of testimonials and endorsements that pour in, telling of the amazing achievements of Konjola, the new medicine, which is now within reach of all in St. Louis and vicinity.

MR. HENRY OCHS.

Photo by V. Janisch, 720 Olive St. This modern medicine of 32 ingredients is being explained and its action, 2 months ago, to the public by the Konjola Man, who is at the Wallace Drug Store, 515 Olive street, St. Louis. Those who suffer, those who may have given up in despair, are invited to hear—not promises and claims—but the good news of Konjola's success in even the stubborn cases that have defied all efforts to find relief. Konjola strives for just one thing—results. Konjola is not designed to give mere temporary relief. Konjola contains no alcohol, no nerve-deadening drugs, no heart-depressing chemicals. It is a medicine that Nature herself might have compounded, for it contains the juices from 22 roots and herbs of medicinal value. Wherever Konjola has been introduced, it continues to win friends and fame. There must be a reason for this astonishing success. There is, and that reason is simply this—Konjola makes good. What hope and encouragement for all who suffer in the experience of Mr. Henry Ochs, 3632 Arkansas street, St. Louis. Picture, if you can, the happiness of this man as he said to the Konjola man who headed the Konjola expedition.

"No words of mine can begin to tell the story of my gratitude for Konjola, nor of my amazement to find such quick and complete relief from suffering that made life miserable for me. For the past nine months I suffered from stomach, liver and kidney trouble. Soon after each meal I bloated with gas that caused intense distress. Shortness of breath and a sour taste resulted. Little sleep was I able to get at night, because my arm, shoulder and back were a solid mass of aches and pains. Each day I had to force myself to work, and at night I was dead tired. This continued for months in spite of treatments and medicines. I lost all energy and vitality; my job was at stake, and I knew that something had to be done.

The many sincere endorsements of Konjola from local people led me to give it a trial. With renewed faith I started on this surprising medicine. I call it a surprising medicine because it certainly amazed me. From the very first I began to improve. I could not believe what was happening—it seemed as if all my aches were being driven from my body—and that is exactly what happened. Soon all the stomach woes had vanished; I found that three hearty meals a day caused no distress; that I was gaining strength and energy. My liver and kidneys were invigorated and strengthened. Each night I slept soundly and greater energy was mine. My work is no longer drudgery and I don't return home all tired out. Every bit of my new and glorious health I owe to Konjola."

The Konjola works, surely and quickly. Amazing results come because the 32 ingredients of Konjola go to work without delay, cleansing and invigorating the system, and paving the way for the return of health so long sought in vain.

The Konjola Man is at the Wallace Drug Store, 515 Olive street, St. Louis, where he is meeting the public daily, introducing and explaining the merits of this master medicine.

ONCE FAMOUS FORT
NOW IS TOURIST CAMP

Hillivers Replace Sentries in Indian War Period in Northern Michigan.

By the Associated Press.
FORT WILKINS, Mich., March 15.—The protected borders of the United States and Canada, an oft-quoted example that two people can live in peace, revives the story of Fort Wilkins, the last army post on the northern boundary line.

Not since its garrison marched away shortly after the Civil War has its confines echoed to martial tread. It now is a State park, and tourists camp beneath its trees where sentries alert for the war cry of Indian braves once walked their posts.

Just a cannon-shot away, across the waters of Lake Superior, is the imaginary line separating Canada from the United States.

Never once in the history of the old fort, gunned from 1844 to 1869, did it fire in hostility. Fort Wilkins was abandoned in 1844, temporarily reoccupied in 1846, reoccupied in 1869 and finally deserted in 1870.

The post was built at the end of Michigan's thumb, the Keweenaw peninsula, as a protection to early copper miners and settlers against Indian aggression. There, too, lurked in the minds of officials at that time a possibility that the United States some day might need to defend its northern frontier.

The first garrisoned troops, who built the post, hewed the logs from virgin timber. After the buildings were completed, and when the State took over the post, the fort was well preserved.

Protecting the enclosure on the north and east was a stockade of posts, fastened with hand-made wooden pegs. Lake Fanny Hooe provided protection on the south side, and there was a rapidly flowing stream on the west.

The post, although somewhat modernized by the summer's flow of motorists, remains a page out of the past in the industrialized present of Michigan's copper country.

GETS PLEDGES OF AID FOR

Col. V. E. Easterwood's Plan for Non-Stop Journey Cordially Received in Berlin.

By the Associated Press.
BERLIN, March 15.—Col. W. E. Easterwood of Dallas, Tex., arrived in Berlin Wednesday on a tour of European countries which he is undertaking to interest the aviators of various countries in his Rome-Dallas non-stop flight project.

He spent his first day buying calls at the Ministry of Transportation and the German Luftwaffe. Ministerial Director Ernest Brandenburg, chief of the aviation division of the transportation ministry, assured Easterwood that the project had the ministry's hearty support and that any German aviator entering the competition would receive every possible encouragement.

Directors Otto J. Maerker, Martin Wronski and Hans Milch of Luftwaffe promised that Luftwaffe's facilities would be at the disposal of any German flyer participating.

Later in the day the American was a guest at a reception in honor of the Russian flyer Chukovskiy, hero of the Krassin expedition sent to rescue the crew of the dirigible Italia, and Prof. Samoilovitch who headed the Krassin expedition.

Marion, Ill., March 15.—Williamson County jurors locked up overnight lacked amusement. Special to the Post-Dispatch.

MARION, Ill., March 15.—Williamson County jurors locked up overnight can play checkers to pass the time away, as the result of a Marion banker's having been forced to serve upon a petit jury for one week.

B. Glenn Gullible, assistant cashier of the Marion Trust and Savings Bank, discovered that jurors had nothing to do from adjournment time in the afternoon until bedtime. He found they were not allowed to read the newspapers, and had little with which to amuse themselves, so as soon as he was released he purchased checkers and checker boards and other games. He also provided extra mirrors and a new supply of towels. All have been donated for the use of the jurors of the county.

INDIANS DRIVEN OUT BY COOLIDGE DAM

They Bargain for Better Terms Than Land and Cash
U. S. Offers Them

By the Associated Press.
MIAMI, Ariz., March 15.—Day
by day the waters of the lake created by the new Coolidge dam are rising and creeping toward the lands of 600 Apache Indians whose property eventually will be submerged.

Although new lands are to be given the Indians in exchange and $145,000 paid for the inconvenience the Indians are still bargaining for better terms. At a recent conference with Government officials at San Carlos, Ariz., a spokesman for the assembled braves concluded his speech of protest with the words: "Indian no want move land. He satisfied with land his father mother pick out here. He no want move. White man say he must so now Indian here to get all he can."

H. H. Fiske, Indian inspector, speaking through an interpreter to the people of Chief Talkall, direct descendant of the famous Geronimo, to Chief Big Horn and some 50 representatives of the Apaches outlined the proposals.

"The Government is not trying to steal your land or your home," he said. "It has been necessary to ask you to move from the land you now occupy but the Government is giving you tribe $90,000 and $50,000 to be divided among the individual Indians."

"There are just 600 of your Apache Indians here who must move to new lands and there are 4000 Pima Indians who will have the first prosperity they have ever known through the waters which will be stored by the Coolidge dam. They do not belong to the same tribe as you but they are your people. You should be glad to help them. It means much to the Pimas and you are not losing anything. The Government is giving you money and new land."

"We understand," answered the spokesman, "we move, but first we get Government to promise good lands with water."

The Apaches have been told they could have their choice of any free land for which irrigation water can be found.

LAWYER APPEALS TO RECOVER JUDGMENT ON NOTE FOR FEE

Defended Edward Nicholson, Indicted with Shelton on Bank Robbery Charge.

By the Associated Press.

SPRINGFIELD, Ill., March 15.—Recalling the trial of the three Shelton brothers, Southern Illinois gangsters, on charge of the attempted robbery of the Clinton County bank in 1924, a petition for a writ of certiorari was filed in the Supreme Court by Attorney R. Sullivan today, seeking a re-hearing on a note for defending one of the defendants in the case. Sullivan was retained to defend Edward Nicholson of Joliet, indicted with the Shelton brothers.

He obtained a note for $10,000 from Nicholson's parents, John J. and Ceila Nicholson, on the assumption that the Shelton would be convicted and would have to appeal to the Supreme Court, and the note would approximate that amount for all the litigation. The note was intended as "security," Sullivan to set the attorney fees later.

Subsequently the indictment was nolled as to Edward Nicholson, and his parents had made payment to Sullivan of approximately $4000. Then Sullivan secured judgment by confession for the remainder of the note, $6427.33.

Claiming they had no note of the amount, Sullivan served by the Sheriff of Will County with a copy of the execution, the Nicholsons asked the Sangamon Circuit Court to allow them to plead. This was denied, and they appealed to the Appellate Court, which reversed the Circuit Court ruling refusing them permission to state their case. Sullivan brings the appeal for the Supreme Court for a reversal of the Appellate Court ruling.

WORK ON ROAD FROM SIKESTON

Highway When Completed This Summer Will Be Concrete Entire Route.

Special to the Post-Dispatch.

SIKESTON, Mo., March 16.—Engineers and workmen of the Cameron-Joyce company of Keokuk, Ia., this week started work toward completion of grading operations on the highway from Marion to New Madrid, a strip of about seven miles left uncompleted last fall, when work was in progress from New Madrid to Portageville. The latter strip will be paved, work to start within four or six weeks, weather permitting.

The A. A. Davis company last year paved from this city to New Madrid, leaving a 17-mile section from Marion to the Missouri County line to be concreted. A large crew of workmen of the State Highway Department is at present constructing a detour around the projected work.

Dirt crews and culvert gangs of the Davis concern will start Monday finishing shoulders from Noland Lane to New Madrid, a distance of 11 miles left uncompleted last fall. Farm entrance bridges and pipes are also to be placed by this company.

With the completion of the work this summer, there will be a hard road from Sikeston to the Arkansas line.

OLDEST AND HAPPIEST COUPLE OF COUNTY MARRIED 68 YEARS

Mr. and Mrs. John W. Field of Near Marshall, Mo., Observe Anniversary.

Special to the Post-Dispatch.

MARSHALL, Mo., March 14.—Mr. and Mrs. John W. Field, of East of Marshall, celebrated their sixtieth wedding anniversary today, which was also the ninety-fourth birthday of Mr. Field. Born and reared in Saline County, the couple has lived practically all their life in this community.

Two daughters, Miss Lottie and Miss Irene Field live with them on the farm.

It was Mr. and Mrs. Field who were awarded the prize for the oldest and happiest couple in Saline County at the fall festival held here last October. Both are active and in excellent health with the exception of an injury to Mrs. Field's foot caused by a recent fall. The birthday and anniversary was observed quietly.

Eight of 10 children are living.

They are Miss Lottie and Miss Irene, Mrs. J. T. Robertson, Marshall; Mrs. Henry Volsky, Slater; Mrs. James Piper, Beggs, Okla.; Walter Field, Slater; Frank Field, Fayette, and Jesse Field, Akron.

Radio Shares Reach New Highs Just Before Close —General Market Is Irregular on Selling.

GOODYEAR RUBBER RECORDS ADVANCE

Belief in Wall Street That Next Week Will See Another Stringency in Call Money.

By the Associated Press.
NEW YORK, March 15.—Although heavy week and profit-taking turned price trend irregular in today stock market, a handful of issues was bid up sharply just before the close with the radio share against establishing new highs. The old radio stock, after slipping 3 points to $50, rebounded to 102%, and the new stock mounted to 103%, closing at 109%.

Russia Insurance and Otis Elevator mounted to 20 points and Goodyear Rubber jumped 9 to a new top. Total sales approximated 2,700,000 shares, a heavy turn over for a Saturday session. The market was irregular at the close.

Averages Little Cling.
The average of 50 industrials closed .5 of a point higher. 20 rallied .1 of a point and 20 unites
.2 of a point down. Selling pressure was particularly effective against the motor and chemical shares, while the coppers, oils and rubbers gave the best exhibitions of group strength.

With copper now selling at 21 cents a pound there was a revival of activity and strength in the copper shares, Anaconda, Chile and Kennecott all moving into new high ground on gains ranging from 2 to 3 1/2 points. Greene Cananea jumped 8 points and Calumet and Arizona 6 points. Attention was called by several commission houses to the fact that the period of 10 days had passed for copper near and that now commitments in that group should be made with extreme caution.

Credit Stringency Anticipated.
Canada Dry Ginger Ale moved into new high ground. Matheson Alkali broke 5 1/2 points and Allied Chemical, Packard Motors, Yellow
Truck, Hudson Motors, Bethlehem
Steel and U. S. Steel common sold down 2 points or more, but the close U. S. Steel common was 1/2 point net higher.

The belief is widely entertained in Wall street that next week will witness another stringency in call money, some observers forecasting rates as high as 12 to 15 per cent.

Call money had already yesterday at 7 per cent, but the call money rate was stepped up to 8 per cent, even for the 90-day maturities.

Radio (new stock) opened with a block of 20,000 shares at 107 1/2, up 3 1/2. The first sale of Superior Oil was a block of 10,000 shares at 10, also up 3 1/2. Union Pacific preferred, Union Carbide and Greene Cananea Copper showed industrial gains of a point or more. Montgomery-Ward, Studebaker and Vanadium Rose yielded fractionally in opening transactions.

Copper Rose With Metal.
Copper remained at the further stiffening of red metal prices, the product for domestic shipment now being quoted at 21 cents a pound.

Kennecott crossed 10 and Anaconda and Cerro de Pasco recorded early gains of a point or so.

Advance Rumely issues moved into new high ground. Otis Elevator was quickly bid up 4 1/2 points.

Closing stock prices with other tables and market news will be found on pages 12 and 13.

MEXICO CITY-LAREDO TRAIN

By the Associated Press.
MEXICO CITY, March 14.—An attempt to dynamite the Mexico City-Laredo passenger train made early yesterday near the station of Oregón in Northern Guanajuato. The floor of an express car was damaged but no one was injured. The train proceeded on its way.

Arthur Schoenfeld, companion of the United States Ambassador here, was a passenger on the train. He is to be Minister to Bulgaria.

Oregón is near where the train of President Forbes Gill was bombed a few weeks ago and outlaw attacks upon trains have been numerous in the district for years.

The Pleated Waistcoat • tailored by Bond

every suit with two pants

The New Cushion Sleeve gives a smart up-tilted finish to a healthy, broad, shoulder line . . . The Tattersall Vest, with its stitched waist-seam and flap pockets, has been a great favorite at the fashionable southern resorts . . . While The Pleated Waistcoat [a bit more conservative] is your Britisher's idea of glorifying the once lowly vest. Both styles are prominent in the Bond spring selections.

And as usual — these new styles are more reasonable at Bond's! Our 22-store turnover, backed up by our own tailor plants, sees to that! It's satisfying to know that the money you spend here goes into the clothes—all of it!
